OBITUARIES.

Columbia River Conference.

JAMES W. BLUETT was born in the State of Pennsylvania. When quite a young man he joined the California Conference, doing long and hard service in that field. In 1882 he was transferred to the Columbia River Conferencee and stationed at Cheney, afterward serving at Colfax, Yakima, and Waterville, being returned to Cheney in 1889, his last appointment to effective work. At the last session of our Conference Brother Bluett asked for and received a superannuated relation, but soon the summons came, "It is enough, come up higher." Brother Bluett's religious experience was always very clear, but especially during his last sickness did he enjoy constant communion with his Saviour, saying at the last, "Jesus is with me." Brother Bluett was a man of more than ordinary preaching ability and a good pastor. His chief joy was to invite sinners to the Lamb of God. One of his favorite texts was, "For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ." In the work of the Gospel he spent his life; in the triumphs of the Gospel he died.

Central Illinois Conference.

WILLIAM MATHENY was born in Adams County, O., March 31, 1821, and died in Normal, Ill., July 15, 1891. He was fatally injured by a train on the Chicago and Alton Railroad, and was unconscious until the time of his death. In 1870 he was admitted into the Central Illinois Conference as a probationer, ordained a deacon in 1873, and an elder in 1875, and served the following charges: Sunbeam, Illinois City, Andalusia, North Henderson, Rock River Valley, Atkinson, La Prairie Center, and La Fayette. He was returned to two of these charges for a second term, namely, Sunbeam and Illinois City. In 1885 he took a superannuated relation and moved to Bloomington, Ill., that his children might have the privilege of attending the Illinois Wesleyan University, and in 1889 he removed to Normal, and there finished his earthly life. Brother Matheny was endowed with a good intellect, and a number of his early years were devoted to school-teaching in West Virginia and Illinois. It was a source of great enjoyment to him to read and study the standard authors of the Church and of literature. He was a loyal Methodist, strongly attached to the Church of his choice, and greatly admired her distinctive features. He was earnest and evangelical in his style of preaching and deeply spiritual in his style of life. He was a tender and loving father and a devoted husband. The principles of Christianity were deeply engraved in his life, and were exhibited in his daily walk. He greatly loved the ordinances of God's house, and was seldom absent from prayer-meeting, the class-meeting, and the preaching of the word, and was a faithful and true friend of his pastor. He took great delight in reading the Scriptures in private and in the family circle, and his soul fed on the hidden manna therein. On his seventieth birthday he wrote a paper setting forth his faith in God as his Father and Christ as his Saviour, in which he says: "This Jesus I humbly accept as my Saviour, and in him is completeness of power to save. I am trying to be loyal to all the requirements of the kingdom of grace, and am seeking, through the merits of the ascended Lord, to have a place in the city of the great King. Nearly forty-nine years ago I enlisted myself as a disciple of Christ, and I feel sure that the Gospel is becoming to me much like it was to the psalmist when he said, 'It is sweeter than honey and the honey-comb.' I am sure that I render a hearty and willing homage to my Creator and God, and here and now I promise by his help to be true to him and his cause." His tragic and sudden death gave him no opportunity to leave any dying testimony; but he has left that which is far better—a living testimony of loving loyalty and consecrated service to God and his Church, and humble faith in Jesus Christ as his adorable Saviour.

ROSWELL NEWMAN MORSE was born in Bond County, Ill., December 13, 1821, and died at his home in Wenona, Ill., August 4, 1891. Between these two events there was a human life full of intense eagerness to know the truth, and great ardor and power in disseminating it. In the fall of 1847 he was received on trial in the Rock River Conference and appointed to Peoria Circuit. His next appointment was Farmington Circuit, and in 1849 he was sent to Hennepin Circuit, where his ministry was signally blessed of God, and where he married Miss Lucinda J. Cowen, who through all his ministerial life afterward stood by his side as an efficient helper and constant inspiration in the work of soul-saving. In 1854 Brother Morse was appointed presiding elder of Rock Island District, where for four years he was in labors abundant, and left the district with shattered health, but went from the district to Second Church, Peoria, in the then Peoria, now Central Illinois, Conference. After serving this church he was transferred to the Rock River Conference and was stationed at Ottawa, then at Wilmington, Shannahan, and Platteville. At the close of his term at Platteville he was again compelled to take a superannuated relation. After three and one half years' retirement on a farm, during which term he served Wenona Circuit as a supply, he was transferred to the Central Illinois Conference and appointed to Lewistown, and afterward to Brimfield, Chillicothe, then Whitefield, and was again compelled to superannuate. After taking this relation he removed to Wenona, Ill., where he remained until his death.

Minnesota Conference.

ROBERT HOOVER came to Minnesota in 1855. In 1856 he was received on trial in the Minnesota Conference, at its organization, and appointed to Monticello; in 1857 to Little Falls and Belle Plain; in 1858 to Cannon Falls, which charge he served two years. In 1860 he was sent to Owatonna. This was his last appointment in this Conference, and since that time he has sustained a superannuated relation to the Conference. Since he ceased to travel as an itinerant preacher he studied medicine, settled in Paynesville, and enjoyed a lucrative practice. More recently he removed to California, where he died on July 6, 1891. Brother Hoover was an earnest Christian, true and sincere, a good preacher, and an honorable man.

WILLIAM H. SOULE was born in Palermo, Me., April 15, 1834, and died in Paynesville, Minn., September 16, 1891, aged fifty-seven years. He was received on trial in the Minnesota Conference in 1860. His appointments were as follows: Greenwood, Lenora, Shakopee, Cannon Falls, Austin, and Lansing, Spring Valley, High Forest, Stockton, Reeds and Wabasha, Olive Branch, Winona, a second term to Cannon Falls, Castle Rock, Granite Falls, Eyota, a second term to Wabasha, and lastly to Paynesville. This proved to be his last. Seals were given to his ministry in every charge, more or less. He was no idler, but a faithful work was done wherever he labored. About six years ago, while pastor at Granite Falls, there came upon him a kidney difficulty which shattered his once strong constitution, from which he could never rally. Three years later, in 1889, ill health compelled him to take a supernumerary relation for one year, and he spent this among his friends in the Eastern States. Taking Brother Soule all in all, after thirty years' acquaintance, it may be said he was a good man, full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and many souls were added to the Church through his labors.

William A. Dawson was born in Ontario, Canada, on November 14, 1862, and died of tuberculosis, in St. Joseph's Hospital, St. Paul, Minn., February 27, 1891. Brother Dawson was born of Methodist parents, converted in a Methodist meeting in 1884, and united with the Church. He felt that he was called of God to preach the Gospel, and decided to make that his life's work. He received license as an exhorter and local preacher in the Methodist Church of Canada, and promptly responded to a call for mission preachers in Manitoba. Finding the rigor of the climate in the extreme North-west too severe for his health, he secured an appointment at Aitkin, Minn., under Presiding Elder Hingeley, as a supply. In 1890 he was admitted into the Minnesota Conference on trial and appointed to Aitkin, which charge he served till called from labor to rest.

William Teal was born in Halifax, England, April 12, 1824. He came to this country when a boy. He united with the Wisconsin Conference in 1857. He was ordained deacon in 1859 and elder in 1861. Suffering from bronchial trouble for a few years, he moved to Minnesota, and, benefited by the change of climate, was transferred to the Minnesota Conference in 1887. He rendered efficient service on several important charges in the Wisconsin Conference. In the Minnesota Conference he served Jackson, Tracy, Janesville, and Fairmont. Soon after his arrival on this last charge, in unpacking his goods, a splinter of steel from a hatchet penetrated his left eye and permanently destroyed his sight. In consequence of this he was compelled to relinquish his charge, and was granted a superannuate relation at the last session of his Conference. After a year and a half of varied suffering he submitted to an operation by which the eye was removed. Although the operation was successful, complications followed which culminated in paralysis, and on April 9, 1891, he departed this life in peaceful triumph. In his pastoral work he was specially careful not to slight or seemingly neglect the poor or the sick.

Joseph C. Ogle was born in Canton, O., July 21, 1830, and died in Owatonna, Minn., July 6, 1891. In 1857 he married Miss Anna C. Mast. He entered the ministry in 1860 in the Pittsburg Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church, and served pastorates in Cambridge, Zanesville, Pennsville, Steubenville, and Tiffin in that Conference. He joined the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Minnesota Conference in 1876. His first charge was Worthington, and at the conclusion of that pastorate he became principal of Worthington Seminary. Having a great delight and considerable success in educational work, he filled this position for two years, and then for five years that of superintendent of public schools in Nobles County. During these seven years he kept himself in close touch with ministerial life by preaching almost regularly. Resuming pastoral work, he served Winnebago City, Mankato, and Owatonna. It was in his fifth year of successful service on this last appointment that he ceased at once to work and live. In the midst of a sermon of more than usual power, on Sunday, July 5, in which he was discussing the great national problems of our time, he was stricken with paralysis and died in about twenty-four hours. This was as he had wished—death in the harness.

North Nebraska Conference.

Joseph M. Adair was born September 5, 1828, in Madison County, O., and died October 19, 1890, at his home in Holyoke, Col. In his early manhood he and four brothers entered the mercantile business in Springfield, but, as their trade increased, they moved to Cincinnati and opened a wholesale house. Feeling that it was his duty to enter the ministry, he left his lucrative and rapidly growing business to do the work of the Master as an itinerant Methodist preacher. He was married in Franklin County, O., to Mary Alma Trumbo, July 4, 1860. After eleven years' service in the Conferences of Ohio Brother Adair was transferred to the Nebraska Conference, in 1868, and on the organization of the North Nebraska Conference he fell within its bounds, where he labored for many years, until failing health forced upon him superannuate relations. He then came to the Frenchman Valley and located near the present city of Holyoke. He organized a large class of Methodists here while acting as supply. He laid the foundation of the Methodist church in Holyoke, and secured a loan from the Church Extension Society, and raised by subscription almost enough to finish the building, when the Annual Conference sent a minister to take charge of the work. Never strong in body, the great wonder is how he accomplished so much. According to the records he kept, nearly two thousand three hundred souls have been brought into the Church by his efforts.

Thomas Thompson was born July 1, 1829, at Somersetshire, England. In 1855 he was recommended to and received into the traveling connection, and appointed as junior preacher on the Maquoketa Circuit. The years 1856 and 1857 find him on the Dubuque Circuit, first year as the junior preacher, second year as preacher in charge. Closing this period, the Conference convened at Marion, Ia., and he was ordained deacon by Bishop Ames. He served the following charges: Clarksville, Floyd, Fort Dodge, Nevada, Marshalltown, Albion, Belle Plain, Earlville, Hopkinton, Dyersville, Monticello and Farley, then returned to Hopkinton a second term. In 1878 he was transferred to the Nebraska Conference and appointed to Albion, where he served three years. When the division of the Conference came in 1881 his lot was cast with the North Nebraska Conference, in which he served as pastor the following places: Cedar Rapids, Norfolk, Elkhorn, Oakdale, and Ewing. Near the close of his second year at Ewing his health so failed that he gave up his work and moved to Albion, Neb., where his sons are engaged in business. He was granted a supernumerary relation at the Conference of 1890. He died on April 26, 1891. Brother Thompson was a clear, faithful, and acceptable preacher of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

H. D. Cole was born in eastern New York, April 15, 1813. He was converted quite young and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. At the age of twenty-five he was licensed to exhort. In 1842 he went to Ohio, and the following year he joined the Erie Conference. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Hamline and elder by Bishop Janes. When the Erie Conference was divided his lot fell in the East Ohio Conference, where he remained until transferred to the North Nebraska Conference in 1884. In 1887 he went to California, and lived with his son at Vineland until his death, which occurred, by an attack of la grippe, January 2, 1891. He rests from his labors and leaves the fragrance of a sweet Christian character.

Erie Conference.

HENRY ELLIOTT was born in Newbury, Orange County, Vt., September 15, 1812; was converted August 19, 1831; was licensed to preach in 1833; was admitted to the Pittsburg Conference in 1835; was ordained deacon in 1837 and elder in 1839. When the Erie Annual Conference was organized in 1836 he became one of its members. He served the following charges: Youngstown, Gustavus, Lawrenceburg, Oil Creek, Sheridan, Freedom, Willoughby, Newburg, Twinsburg, Geneva, Ashtabula, superannuated on account of a bronchial trouble, Windsor, and Ellsworth. From 1851 until his death he was on the superannuated list. In 1855 he moved to Glencoe, Minn., where he resided till 1863, when he was driven from his home by the Indians. He finally located in Saint Paul, where he resided a number of years, and was esteemed as an honored father in Israel by the Church there. In 1873 he was compelled to become a claimant, and with the exceptions of the years 1877 and 1880, when he received nothing, that necessity ceased only with his death. Brother Elliott was a fair preacher, a good pastor, and quite successful. He peacefully passed away at his home in Farmington, Minn., May 28, 1891.

ALEXANDER L. MILLER was born near Evansburg, Crawford County, Pa., December 25, 1809, and died May 4, 1891. His more than eighty-one years of earthly sojourn were divided as follows: twenty-eight years, a boy and young man, were spent on a rough farm, in a new settlement, in labor, study, teaching, and preparing for the ministry; twenty-four years an effective itinerant minister, and twenty-nine years in either a supernumerary or a superannuate relation. He was born, converted, married, labored, studied, suffered, and spent nearly all his life in the vicinity of Conneaut Lake, and here, at his home in Shermansville, near the place of his birth, he died. He was fifty years a member of the Erie, and three, including his probation, of the Indiana, Conference. He was admitted on trial by the Erie Conference in 1837, and was induced to transfer to Indiana, where he was appointed to New Castle, Spencer, and Springville. In 1840 he located and returned to Pennsylvania, where he was immediately employed by Presiding Elder Bain to travel, first on Clintonville and then on Oil Creek Circuits. In 1842 he was re-admitted to the Erie Conference and appointed to Oil Creek; then to Clintonville, Hartford, Conneautville, supernumerary, superannuated, Evansburg, superannuated again, Hendersonville, New Lebanon, Espyville, Richmond, Riceville, superannuated again, Townville, superannuated again, Kelloggsville. In March, 1871, returning home from an appointment, he was struck by a storm of wind and rain so violent as to drive him, with great force, against the timbers of a bridge, which resulted in the fracture of his right hip. The bones, not being properly adjusted, grew together out of place, making one leg nearly four inches shorter than the other. Thenceforward, for twenty years, he was a feeble man and went halting to the end of his days. Brother Miller was always regarded by those who knew and heard him as an earnest, impressive Christian minister. He believed in the doctrines and usages of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and successively maintained them against all opposition. If his sermons had not modern polish and finish they were, nevertheless, substantial outgrowths from gospel facts, and appealed to the heart and conscience with convincing power. He was not boisterous or rough, but tender, pathetic, persuasive. His last years were filled with waiting and suffering, in which he was sustained by the grace which he found all-sufficient in time of need. With great tenacity of life he lingered until literally worn out. Particle by particle the tabernacle fell without repair, until completely exhausted, and then he fell asleep.

Genesee Conference.

EDWARD WINFIELD HARNED was born at Merrick, L. I., November 5, 1850. In the fall of 1882 he joined the Genesee Conference and was stationed at Delmar. While here, on the 7th day of March, 1883, he married Mary, a daughter of George Bonham, who was one of the most faithful and efficient members of the Methodist Church at Osceola, Pa. In the person of his wife Brother Harned found a helpmeet indeed, she being a thoroughly consecrated Christian woman and fully acquainted with the ways and usages of the Church of her choice. In 1883 and 1884 Brother Harned was stationed at North and East Gainesville; in 1885 and 1886 at Fowlerville. During the second year of his pastorate here an article in the June number of the Christian Advocate, by Bishop Taylor, called Brother Harned's attention to the great work of the evangelization of Africa. He studied the subject carefully, taking into consideration all the privations and risks of living in that far-off land, and finally decided that the call was too imperative to be disregarded. He and his devoted wife and two boys sailed for Africa, October 1, 1887. They reached Cape Palmas November 4, where they remained a few weeks, making preparations for their departure into the interior, where their field of work was to be. On their way to their station they met with such opposition from the native tribes as compelled them finally to pass back down the river, they barely escaping death at the hands of the treacherous savages. Then they were compelled to resort to the tedious work of cutting a path through the bush sixty miles to their station, which they reached December 4. December 7, with scarcely any arrangements made for living, the younger child sickened and died after only a few hours' illness. With their own hands the bereaved father and mother made the little coffin and tenderly laid the little form away to rest. This blow was a severe one, but in speaking of it Brother Harned said: "Africa grows dearer and dearer to us as we lay our treasures here." In February, 1888, Brother Harned was prostrated with fever, from which he never fully recovered; but he struggled on, hoping against hope, until in June, 1888, fully convinced that to remain in Africa was only to die there, without doing any more aggressive work, he resolved to return to America. The family sailed from Cape Palmas July 13, and reached New York August 13. A change for the better was soon observable, and at the Conference of 1888 Brother Harned took work again and was stationed at South Byron. But his health was not fully restored, and in April, 1890, he entered the Methodist Hospital in Brooklyn, where he stayed three months, returning to his work July 9. After two weeks he was compelled to stop work again, and at the session of the Conference in 1890 was granted a superannuated relation, and removed to Rochester, N. Y. He failed slowly but surely, and on Friday, November 21, sank unexpectedly into a comatose condition, from which he never rallied, and early Monday morning, November 24, 1890, his eyes were opened "to see the King in his beauty, and to behold the land that is very far off."

ANDREW SUTHERLAND was born in Cambria, Niagara County, N. Y., July 22, 1818. He died in Rochester, N. Y., February 27, 1891. He was received as a probationer into the Genesee Conference at Lyons in 1846, and into full membership in 1848, at Rochester. The Conference was divided at the session of 1848, and Brother Sutherland became a member of the East Genesee division. He continued to labor during his life within the territory of the old Genesee Conference. His effective relation was unintermitted until 1886, when, on account of growing infirmities, and especially of the gradual failure of sight, making it impossible for him to study or read, he accepted a superannuated relation.

His residence during the period of his superannuation was in Rochester, where he enjoyed the companionship not only of old friends, but especially of most of the members of his own beloved family. Physically, Brother Sutherland was of delicate, apparently frail, organization, and when he joined the Conference his early demise was expected by his friends; but by a life of severely temperate and correct habits, supported by open-air exercise, such as was demanded of the earlier itinerant, he developed unexpected powers of endurance, doing much faithful and not a little heroic service. He yielded up his life at last in good old age. He was united in marriage to Miss Mary McLean, of Starkey, in 1848. Brother Sutherland's appointments were as follows: Starkey, Hopewell, Milo and Dresden, Dresden, Catharine, Bath, Towanda, Trumansburg, Newark, Geneva District, Lima, Addison, Alexander Street, Rochester; Hornellsville District, Lima District, Perry, Nunda, Andover, Webster. His intellect was clear, strong, and well-balanced. His sermons were lucid, logical, convincing, clothed with almost perfect language, although delivered entirely and always without notes. His preaching was not characterized by passion, but by persuasive force; and the truth which he left with his hearers was symmetrical, strong, and conclusive. As a pastor he commended himself to his people by his candor, his sincerity, his well-balanced judgment, and his unfeigned humility. In his presidency of a district none could accuse him of partiality, unfairness, or prejudice. His heart was always open to view and his life transparent. He walked in the light. Many were converted through his instrumentality.

John H. Blades was born in West Burton, Yorkshire, England, April 17, 1828, and died at his home in Addison, April 12, 1891. He was twenty-three years old when he came to America, soon after which he joined the old East Genesee Conference. He served while in the active work the following charges, with a high degree of acceptability: South Sodus, Bethel and Voakes, Naples, Addison, Watkins, Horseheads, Troy, Canisteo, Knoxville, Cameron, Rathboneville, Lindley, and Irwin. In 1873, his voice failing, he was obliged to discontinue his labors and change his relationship. He afterward resumed the work for a short time, but was again compelled by failing health to locate. Brother Blades, when in his prime, was a talented preacher. His brethren often speak with pleasure of occasions when his power as a pulpit orator was wonderfully demonstrated. Extensive revivals usually followed his ministry, and a great many have been gathered into the Church through his instrumentality.

Kasimir P. Jervis was born in Utica, N. Y., January 9, 1825. He was admitted to the East Genesee Conference on trial in 1852. His appointments have been Middlesex, Painted Post, Dansville, Geneseo, Canandaigua, Hedding, Elmira; Palmyra, Clyde, Lyons, First Church, Lockport; Rochester District, Hornellsville, Penn Yan, Wellsborough, Le Roy, Somerset, Victor, Bath, Niaraga Falls, Coudersport, Nunda. For fourteen years he was secretary of his Conference, and five times he was delegate to General Conference. Perhaps more than any one else he should be considered the founder of the Mutual Aid Society of the East Genesee Conference. On March 1, 1891, he yielded to the importunities of his family and went to Clifton for treatment. There the doctors "very kindly," as he expressed it in a letter, "read his death-sentence and advised him to go home as soon as possible, as only a few weeks remained." The following Monday he was at the Rochester preachers' meeting. No one would have suspected from his demeanor that he had just received his death-warrant. His cheerfulness, his interest in all that occurred, his very playfulness, were unimpaired. At that time he confided the truth to his son-in-law, adding, "I would be glad to end the struggle as soon as possible." He could not bear to tell it at home, and said, "I am going to fight it as long as I can, and perhaps they will come to accept the truth for themselves after a little." He came home on April 10. On Sunday, April 19, he was drawn out to the dinner-table for the last time. After sweet talk and counsel and singing he said, "Now sing 'Thou my everlasting portion.' That will carry me right to the gates of heaven." On May 23 he went out of our presence and into His, the divine Master's, to whom he had given his life.

John Jackson Brown was born in Amenia, N. Y., in 1820, and died in Syracuse, N. Y., August 15, 1891. When about twenty-eight years old he joined the East Genesee Conference, and was appointed to Canadice and Richmond Circuit. After serving various charges, among which were Naples, Clifton Springs, and Dansville, in 1857 he accepted the principalship of Dansville Seminary, and, after six years, of East Genesee Conference Seminary, at Ovid. After two years, owing to his growing prominence as a student and teacher of science, he was called to the chair of natural science in Falley Seminary at Fulton, N. Y. Here he evinced such ingenuity in scientific mechanical constructions as to attract the attention of the great universities, and he was called to the chair of chemistry and industrial mechanics at Cornell University. But the Church of his choice needed him, and he listened to her summons when, in 1871, at its founding, he came to Syracuse University as professor of physics and chemistry. In all these responsible positions he showed himself well equipped. Thus for thirty-four years, following nine years of ministerial labors, he was constantly in the educational work, often, however, preaching the Gospel. The degree of A. M. was conferred on him in 1860, and in 1879 the degree of LL.D. Two years ago, because of failing health, Dr. Brown was made an emeritus professor. For about a year he resided at Dr. Smith's Institute at Geneva, attended constantly by his devoted wife. The last few months were spent in their beautiful residence in Syracuse. The end came peacefully.

Indiana Conference.

William H. Jack was born in Kentucky, September 7, 1850; joined the Methodist church at Mauckport, Ind., in 1868, and was admitted on trial in the Indiana Conference in 1884. He served the following charges: Stewartsville, Dover Hill, Leesville, Orleans. At the close of his second year at Orleans he came to Conference at Martinsville and made his report. He was assigned to the Union Circuit. He returned to his home on Friday, the third day of the Conference, because of sickness. Through weeks of illness his faith in the Lord failed not. October 16, 1890, he sweetly fell asleep in Jesus. He leaves a wife and two children to mourn their loss. The funeral sermon was preached by W. S. Rader, in the Methodist church at Orleans.

Joseph Shell Woods was born near Morgantown, Ind., October 9, 1833. He was married to Miss Sarah A. Smith, January 8, 1857. In the fall of 1858 he was admitted into the Indiana Conference and was sent to Williamsburg Circuit; in 1859 to Monrovia Circuit. At the close of this year his health failed and he located. In the fall of 1861 Brother Woods was again admitted into the Conference and filled the following appointments: Belleville Circuit, Bloomfield, Jonesville, Erie, Princeton Station. In 1867 he took a supernumerary relation. After resting a year he was made effective and appointed as follows: Ellettsville, Princeton, Mt. Vernon Station, Wesley Chapel, New Albany; Centenary, New Albany; Indianapolis District, Wesley Chapel, New Albany; Vincennes Station, Evansville District, Trinity, Evansville. At the last session of the Conference he was returned to Trinity, Evansville, for the fourth year. While at Conference he took a severe cold, which affected his heart so that he was unable to lie down for several nights, but came home, and seemed to be improving for a week or two before his death. On Sunday, the 26th, he filled his pulpit in the morning, preaching with average ability from Rev. iv, 3. The day was dark and gloomy, but while he was describing the effects and beauties of the rainbow about the throne in the celestial city all at once the sun shone out brightly, and, flinging his beams through the colored glass of the church windows, suddenly shed around the pulpit and preacher a beautiful drapery of golden light. In the afternoon he attended a funeral, retired at night feeling unusually well, and slept sweetly all night. A little before six o'clock on Monday morning, October 27, Sister Woods awoke and heard him breathing heavily, as he often did; she made two efforts to awake him, but failed. She then raised him up, when his head fell back on his shoulder and he ceased to breathe, sweetly falling asleep in Jesus, to awake in the eternal city. He had suffered from heart disease for years, which finally accomplished its work suddenly and unexpectedly. Brother Woods was ordained deacon by Bishop Morris, at Washington, in 1863; elder by Bishop Scott, at New Albany, in 1865. As a man Brother Woods was of the highest type. Every element of his nature was noble and manly. As a preacher Dr. Woods was strong and positive, reaching down to the foundation and grasping in all their fullness the fundamental truths of the Gospel. The pulpit was his throne of power. To enter it seemed to bring him an inspiration which gave him power and influence with his audience, enabling him to rivet eternal truths upon their minds and hearts. By his happy use of familiar illustrations he enabled his audience to feel the force and derive the greatest possible benefit from the contemplation of his subject. Possessed of a strong and vivid imagination, he was able to adorn his sermons with the most delicate touches of imagery that nature and experience afforded. A few years ago DePauw University honored herself and the Church by giving him the degree of doctor of divinity. He was a member of the General Conference of 1880. A loving companion and children now mourn their loss.

Henry J. Barr, of the Indiana Conference, died in the parsonage in Orleans, Ind., January 15, 1891. He was born in Ohio, March 3, 1825. He was an uncompromising Methodist. His consistent Christian life convinced members of other branches of the Church that he was their brother. For some years he enjoyed perfect love. He was chaste and pure in his conversation. His presiding elder said, "I never knew him to speak a foolish word." His life was a blessing to others. He was licensed to preach in 1861, and he was admitted on trial in the Indiana Conference in 1866, and was pastor on the following charges: New Harmony, New Philadelphia, Lanesville; Main Street, New Albany; Cannelton; Penn Street, Evansville; Shoals, Pleasantville, Mitchell, Patricksburg; Jennie DePauw, New Albany; Greenville, and Orleans. He was a faithful pastor and a good preacher. Soon after they were settled in the parsonage at Orleans his faithful wife died. He continued to preach, and looked after all the interests of the Church as long as he had strength to work. In his last sickness he experienced that there was no fear in love, that perfect love casteth out fear. He died as he lived, trusting in the Lord.

J. F. Woodruff was born in Hamilton County, O., near Cincinnati, January 11, 1854, and died at the residence of his brother, Rev. G. P. Woodruff, in Bonifay, Fla., February 28, 1891. In the year 1876 he was admitted into the traveling connection in the Indiana Conference. In his short and faithful ministry of fourteen and a half years it is estimated that he was instrumental in the salvation of three thousand souls. Our lamented brother was happily united in marriage to Miss Maggie Scott in 1880. Of the life and character of the deceased much might be said. He was a man of the sweetest disposition—gentle, tender, and loving. His big heart went out in sympathy for the sorrowing. Into how many dark and desolate homes he threw the warm sunshine, and inspired the inmates to a nobler and better life, will never be known here. A pastoral visit from him was a benediction to any family. As a preacher he was always instructive, and aimed at immediate results. He was happiest when in the midst of a glorious revival. He was a man of deep piety, and yet "Nearer, my God, to thee," was the constant cry of his soul. When his health began to fail his heart was set on a new church for the good people of his last charge. He was permitted to see the desire of his heart fully realized. After its dedication his people most cheerfully granted him leave of absence, and he went to the sunny South, with the hope that its balmy air would restore him to his wonted health and strength. When he bade his family and friends farewell at the Union Depot, in the city of Indianapolis, little did he or they dream that pastor and people would never again meet and greet each other in this world. Yet such was the fact. On February 28, 1891, he passed away. The silver cord was broken. He retained his consciousness to the last.

Morris S. Woods was born in Monrovia, Ind., June 2, 1860, and died at the home of his mother in Evansville, Ind., June 3, 1891, making him at time of death thirty-one years and one day old. As the son of a Methodist preacher he was subject to the constant change of location incident to itinerant life. It was in the midst of this incessant change, this moving from place to place, this bidding adieu to old acquaintances and forming of new ones, that Brother Woods matured his character. It was in the home, under the glow of his father's fervent spirit and the calm but powerful leaven of his mother's devotion, that impressions were made on his mind which formulated and shaped the future career of his life. In 1882 he joined the Indiana Conference at its session in Sullivan, and was assigned by Bishop Simpson (in whose honor he was named) to the Leavenworth Circuit. Subsequently he filled the following appointments: Tunnelton, French Lick, Ingle Street, Evansville; Princeton, and California Street, Indianapolis. September 5, 1882, he was united in marriage to Miss Minnie L. Lonnan. The first serious illness of Brother Woods occurred about the 23d of February. After a few anxious weeks he revived somewhat, and on the second Sunday in April preached his last sermon in the church which he had served so faithfully as pastor. The following Wednesday he went with his family to Evansville, the home of his mother. Here he remained seven weeks, gaining and relapsing until June 3, at five o'clock in the evening, when the disimprisoned spirit joined the spirit of his father and went to dwell with Christ in the paradise of God. His body was laid to rest by the side of his father in the beautiful cemetery at Morgantown.

William McK. Johnson was born in La Porte County, Ind., January 25, 1842, and died in the parsonage in Harrodsburg, Ind., August 19, 1891. He served his country as an officer in the army two years. In 1866 he was married to Miss Phebe Dunkin. In 1883 he was admitted into the Indiana Conference. He was pastor of the following charges: Hymera, three years; Linton, one year; Pleasantville, three years; and Harrodsburg, one year. He was a good student, a clear thinker, and a strong preacher. His religious experience was always as clear as light. He loved to preach the doctrines of our Church. He was successful in revival work. All who knew him loved him. During the last few months of his life he was a great sufferer. His wife insisted that he should rest a year. His reply was: "It does me good to preach. God so helps me that I forget my feebleness, and I do not want to superannuate. I want to die in the field."

Michigan Conference.

JOSEPH TALBERT IDDINGS was born July 29, 1829, near Dayton, O., and died at Albion, Mich., on Sunday, April 12, 1891. He united on trial with the North Indiana Conference in 1864, and was appointed to La Fontaine Charge in 1864–65. In 1866 he was admitted to Conference and ordained deacon by Bishop Ames, and stationed at Pendleton for the next two years. In 1868 he was ordained an elder by Bishop Simpson, appointed to Wayne Street, Fort Wayne, and re-appointed the next spring. In the fall of 1869 he was transferred to the Michigan Conference and stationed at Ovid. Up to this time his health was perfect. In physical stature he was a type of manly beauty. He hardly knew the meaning of weariness, and boundless hope and courage marked every action. From Ovid he went to St. Joseph, where he suffered what at that time was supposed to be sunstroke, but which was afterward considered the beginning of that insidious disease which ended his earthly career. His appointments in the Conference have been as follows: Ovid, St. Joseph, Plainwell, South Albion, Marengo, Allen, Reading, and Bangor. At the Conference in 1880 he was granted a supernumerary relation, which was continued for three years. In 1883–85 he was stationed at Charlevoix, at Ironton in 1886, and Reading for a second term in 1887–89. At the last Conference he was appointed to Sherwood, where he remained only a few weeks. Brother Iddings was married May 29, 1853, to Miss Martha A. Johnson, the estimable lady who survives him, and who for thirty-eight years had stood at his side—a worthy and faithful helpmeet, beloved and cherished by all who knew her. As a preacher Brother Iddings was forcible, energetic, and scholarly. As a pastor he was faithful to all classes. The sick were never neglected. Tender childhood was directed by his oversight in the way of truth. Many a youth has been inspired by his words to true Christian manhood and womanhood. His death, as his life, was gentle, joyous, and full of peace beyond all understanding. A little look of wonder, a rapturous smile, a soft sigh, and eternity was his.

CHARLES CHICK was born at Goudhurst, England, January 20, 1833, and died at Whitehall, Mich., August 2, 1891. In his twenty-first year he was married to Miss Ellen C. Mercer, who for thirty-eight years had shared the toils, trials, and triumphs of his lot. He was received on trial by the Michigan Conference at Lansing in 1857. In 1862 he was received into full connection and ordained a deacon by Bishop Scott, and four years later he received ordination as an elder at the hands of Bishop Ames. His pastoral charges were: Matherton, Diamondville, Onondaga, Okemos, De Witt, Maple Rapids, Lyons, Vergennes, Woodland, Whitehall, Keeler. In 1873 he was appointed to Whitehall. During his pastorate, and largely as the result of his faith and zeal and personal toil, a commodious church was erected. He went to the woods for timber and to the fields for stone, working early and late, but he passed the limit of his strength, and has paid the penalty in years of shattered health and premature age and death. After an attempt at Keeler for one year to go on with his chosen and loved calling he had to retire; the days of his active ministry were numbered. One who has known him intimately since the beginning of his ministry says: "As a preacher he was earnest, scriptural, instructive, and winning. As a pastor he was faithful, sympathetic, and successful. As a Christian he was true, spiritual, generous, and hospitable. His record is on high, where many will rise up to call him blessed."

WILLIAM J. ALDRICH was born in Brunswick, O., June 7, 1836. He died September 23, 1890, aged fifty-four years. He entered the Michigan Conference in 1865. His appointments were: Big Rapids, Lamont, Second Street, Grand Rapids; Greenville, Niles, Jackson, Grand Rapids District, Kalamazoo District, Muskegon. At the last session of the Conference he was appointed presiding elder of Lansing District. But just as he was preparing to take up his new work, and on the very field where he had laid down his last and most successful pastorate, just seven days after the adjournment of Conference, the great Head of the Church called him from labor to reward. He was a man of wonderful energy and force of character. Whatever enterprise he took hold of he undertook to win. During his ministry he was the prime mover in the building of thirty churches. The elegant Central Church at Muskegon, from which he was buried, was his last and crowning work in this direction. He was a spiritual preacher and a most successful soul-winner. He was a man of much broader and more liberal culture than many would suppose on a casual acquaintance with him. Baldwin University, in June, 1888, conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Divinity. His last sickness was of short duration—from Monday evening, September 22, to Tuesday, September 23, 1890. His death was most triumphant. When it became very apparent that death was near he said to his physician, "Doctor, this will take me away soon, will it not? If it will I would like to know it, because if it will be soon I would like to talk with the family." The doctor said, "I think it will be soon." The family were then called, and they knelt by his bedside, and he gave to each a parting word. Finally, as if catching a glimpse of the glory land, and seeming to see his sainted mother, his last utterance was, "Mother, mother, I'm coming!" Thus our beloved brother passed to his eternal rest.

FRANCIS BURRETT BANGS was born at Stamford, Delaware County, N. Y., March 23, 1819; and came to Michigan with his parents in the fall of 1828, settling at Tecumseh. His ministerial record stands as follows: In 1840 he joined the Michigan Conference and was appointed junior preacher to Pontiac Circuit, with Rev. James Shaw as superintendent. The circuit then included Pontiac, Rochester, Troy, Royal Oak, Birmingham, Southfield, Bloomfield, Clarkston, and other points, requiring from our brother twenty-three sermons every four weeks. Gracious revivals attended his work, one at Birmingham, in August, resulting in sixty conversions. His succeeding appointments were as follows: Flint, Utica, Mt. Clements, Tecumseh, Kalamazoo, Niles, Kalamazoo District, Coldwater, Battle Creek, Albion, Jackson, Kalamazoo District, Homer, Ionia District, Ionia; First Church, Lansing; Mason, Lansing District, Three Rivers, Homer, Nashville, superannuated. He was three times elected a delegate to the General Conference, first in 1852, when only thirty-three years of age. Brother Bangs was twice married, first to Miss Catharine Hall Webb, January 6, 1842. She died July 5, 1875. Brother Bangs was again married to Mrs. Helen Latson, February 19, 1876, and she survives him. The death of Brother Bangs occurred at his home in Eaton Rapids, Mich., May 20, 1891. He was confined to his bed only eight days, and was not considered dangerously ill until within a very few days of his death. He suffered greatly, but was patient, and toward the last enjoyed great peace and comfort of soul.

WILLIAM JENNINGS was born in Halestown, Cornwall, England, November 20, 1857, and died in Augusta, Mich., March 26, 1891. In 1874 he came to Newfoundland, where in due time he passed through his course of study, received his ordination, and became an honored member of the Newfoundland Conference. He was eminently successful in his pulpit ministrations, his pastoral work, and in winning souls. July 17, 1878, he was married to Ann Sophia Osmond, who survives him. In 1887 Brother Jennings severed his relation with the Newfoundland Conference, removed to this State, and was received into the Michigan Conference. Here he had three appointments: Grand Haven, two years; Holland, one; and six months at Augusta before the Master called him. He was in the midst of a gracious revival when his labors ended.

George Carver Elliott was born in Florida, N. Y., May 23, 1815. Converted in 1834, he at once united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was received into the Oneida Conference in 1843, and served thirteen charges in that Conference during a period of twenty-five years. Transferred to Michigan Conference in 1868, he served Dowagiac, Pokagon, Decatur, Coloma, Keeler, Marcellus, Edwardsburg, Cassopolis, and Mattawan charges, completing nineteen years in Michigan Conference, closing his last work in 1888. The measure of forty-four years in the ministry is perhaps best appreciated by quoting his own record of about seven thousand sermons preached during that time. For two years a superannuate, he was living among us in the quiet confidence of a veteran's hope. Summoned through heart failure, he closed God's book at morning prayers and hastened away beyond the shadows of earthly life on October 23, 1890, aged seventy-five years.

G. A. Van Horn. [Obituary not received.]

Iowa Conference.

C. P. Reynolds was born near Ripley, O., December 25, 1821, and died at his home in Toledo, Ia., June 26, 1891. Came to Iowa in 1838, and located near Muscatine. Married Martha Orr in 1840, who for upward of half a century shared with him the joys and sorrows of this earthly life, more than thirty years of which were spent in the active work of the Methodist ministry. Brother Reynolds was converted in his twentieth year. In 1853 he was admitted to the Iowa Conference. His ministerial life was diligently and faithfully spent. He was pre-eminently the friend of the poor. As a pastor he was diligent, and few have gained a firmer hold upon the affections of their people. As a preacher he gave early promise of ability and success, which promise was abundantly verified. Revivals marked every year of his ministry, two hundred and sixty being added to the Church in one charge. He leaves his Church and family the inheritance of a spotless name. He took a superannuated relation six years ago, and retired to his own house in Toledo, Ia., during which time he showed constant readiness to employ his talents as opportunity presented or health would permit. One year ago he had a severe attack of influenza, from which he did not appear ever fully to recover. The day before he died, his wife, who was an untiring watcher by his side, observing an unusual and anxious look upon his face, inquired, "What do you desire?" With considerable effort he said, "I want you to know what a victory I have in Christ. All is well; all is well!" He then prayed, "Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean; wash me and I shall be whiter than snow." An hour before he passed away his pastor asked, "Do you still realize the Saviour precious?" He smiled and bowed his head. He then faintly said, "Very feeble, but I'll wait an hour."

James H. McCutcheon was born July 3, 1812, in Greenbrier County, Va. In 1839 he was admitted on trial into the Virginia Conference, and appointed to the Kanawha Circuit, with the Rev. O. C. Shelton, now of the Iowa Conference, as preacher in charge. His appointments in succession were: Guyandotte Circuit, Cable County, Va., in 1840. At the close of this Conference year he was ordained deacon, at Urbana, O., by Bishop Roberts, and was appointed to Logan Court-house Circuit, Va. His next appointment was Malta, Morgan County, Va. In 1843 he was ordained elder by Bishop Soule, in Chillicothe, O., and was appointed to Logan Circuit, in Hocking County. In 1844 he was appointed to Coalville Circuit, with E. W. Twining, late of the Iowa Conference, as colleague. His next succeeding appointments in the Ohio Conference were: McArthurson, Little Kanawha Circuit, Barlowe Circuit, Belpre Circuit, Burlington, Gallipolis Circuit, Mount Pleasant Circuit, Tarleton Circuit, Frankfort, Sharonville. He was then transferred to the Iowa Conference, and appointed to Libertyville. His subsequent appointments were: Oakdale, Lexington Circuit, West Liberty. In 1862 Brother McCutcheon, by reason of bronchitis and failing health, superannuated. He located in Keokuk, Ia., where he lived until the spring of 1866. He soon after removed to New Boston, on a farm, whereon he resided until 1886, when he returned to Keokuk. Here he resided until called to his heavenly home, November 24, 1890.

California Conference.

Wayne Carver was born in Stockbridge, Madison County, N. Y., January 17, 1830, and died in San Francisco, Cal., February 13, 1891. He began his ministry in 1865 and was ordained deacon by Bishop Levi Scott in 1857. He preached a year or two in New York, then moved to Wisconsin. After his graduation at the Biblical Institute he removed to Minnesota, and remained there and preached faithfully and successfully until 1865. He was married to Mrs. L. M. Chapman April 12, 1867, and she survives him after an uncommonly happy wedded life of twenty-four years. In 1867 Wayne Carver volunteered to go as a missionary to Utah, and he labored there faithfully as a pastor and presiding elder seven years, when he removed to Nevada and became a member of the Nevada Conference. He labored there as pastor and presiding elder five years, and then was transferred to the California Conference, and continued to work in his consecrated ministry until his death. He was a devoted friend, a loving husband, a sincere minister of the Lord Jesus, and singularly anxious to do all possible good to the bodies and souls of men. When sent to the little mission which grew into Trinity Church he planned wisely and worked efficiently. He selected and bought the splendid lot now occupied by that church. His incessant labor and anxiety about it undermined his health, and he took a supernumerary relation, but worked on as before at Benicia, and at Fifteenth Avenue, in South San Francisco. He died as he had lived—in the Lord. His great and chief characteristic was his intense desire to do good.

Joseph Asbury Bruner was born in Virginia, August 11, 1820, and died in San Leandro, June 20, 1891, aged 70 years. In September, 1840, he was received on trial into the Ohio Conference, and regularly passed into full membership and into full orders in the ministry. In 1846 he was united in marriage to Miss Margaret Morris, of Chillicothe, O., daughter of Judge Presley Morris, of precious memory. The first sixteen years of Brother Bruner's ministerial life were spent in Ohio, where the visible fruits of his labors were most gratifying. Few ministers ever obtain and retain a stronger hold for good upon their people than Brother Bruner. Revivals of marked power and permanence crowned his labors, and no interest in the Church suffered in his hands. As a pastor he was considered the equal of the best. His special gifts as a singer, with his warm and sympathetic heart and manner, made his visits to the sick and suffering a benediction, which was longed for by many, and will be remembered forever. His discretion, his warm, earnest piety, with his regularity of pastoral visitation, greatly helped to fill his pews; while his fidelity to the truth and deep and devout earnestness profited all who heard him with good motives. In 1856 he was transferred to the California Conference and stationed at Marysville, where he spent two years. From that time until the Lord said, "It is enough," his life has been before many of us, more or less. The most of that time he has led our devotional meetings at Conference in song, and his brief and pointed testimonies in our love-feasts have ever been an inspiration. During his thirty-five years of California life he filled many of our prominent appointments with fidelity, ability, and success. He was stationed in San Francisco several times, in Santa Clara, Sacramento, and many other places of importance, besides serving as presiding elder on the Sacramento and Stockton Districts. As he neared the fiftieth year of service in the ministry shadows thickened in his domestic sky. First, a lovely daughter, Mrs. Harold, not long married, was called to her eternal home. In less than two years the wife of his youth and the partner of his mature life's toils was smitten with a disease that hurried her from earth in a few days. This stroke shattered his earthly home forever. He survived this last shock only about eighteen months.

East Ohio Conference.

William Ransom Scott was born near Washington, Guernsey County, O., August 4, 1857, and died in Centerville, Belmont County, February 2, 1891. In 1887 he was received on trial in the East Ohio Conference and appointed to Belmont Circuit. After serving this charge for three years he was appointed at the last session of the Conference to Centerville Circuit. He went from the Conference a year ago in the best of health and spirits, and entered vigorously and earnestly upon the work of the year. He had just closed his second protracted meeting, which had resulted in about fifty conversions, and with heart and mind full of plans and labors for still greater success, when his summons came and he entered upon his reward. Dr. Scott was a close student, a diligent and successful pastor, and a faithful preacher of the Gospel of Christ, and had already given promise of large usefulness in the work of the ministry. He preached on Sabbath preceding his death with unusual unction, but on Monday morning he was stricken down, and in a few hours "was not, for God had taken him." The last audible words he uttered were spoken in answer to a question by his grief-stricken companion, "I want sinners to come to Jesus."

Hiram Miller died February 25, 1891, at Canton, O. He was born June 17, 1822, near Williamsport, Pa.; married to Margaret E. Gilchrist in June, 1852; entered the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church 1843, being received into the Pittsburg Conference. As pastor he served with notable success the respective Methodist Episcopal churches at Salem, Manchester, Murrysville, Chestnut Street, Allegheny; McConnellsville, Wesley Chapel, Pittsburg; Braddock, Webster, Arsenal, Pittsburg; Stewardstown, Brownsville, Washington, First Church, Canton; Smithfield Street, Pittsburg; Monongahela, Beaver, Massillon, and Wellsville. In 1866, after a continuous ministry of forty-three years, he became a member of the honorable class of supernumeraries, and removed to Canton, O., where he cheerfully waited until his appointed time. The death of Dr. Miller made a deep and sorrowful impression upon the people, to whom he was well known and greatly beloved. His mental powers, naturally robust, were made stronger by study and profound thinking. Eminent pulpit ability, united to sterling piety and a lovable spirit, with complete consecration to God and thorough devotion to the work of the Christian ministry, crowned his life with usefulness and success. As a preacher he was earnest, scholarly, devout, powerful. The frequency and aptness of scriptural and hymnal quotations, used efficiently in his sermons, were signs of remarkable memory and refined taste. His Christian experience was clear, confiding, conquering, honoring the testimony of a good conscience and the witness of the Holy Ghost. He knew Whom he trusted, and his end was peace.

Stephen Hubbard was born in New York city February 15, 1800, and died in Edinburg, Portage County, O., May 8, 1891. He was converted in his sixteenth year. In 1834 he was received on trial in the Pittsburg Conference. He was one of the charter members of the old Erie Conference. His appointments were: Columbiana, Gustavus, Hartford, Parkman, Freedom, Parkman again, supernumerary, Ellsworth, supernumerary again, Hubbard, Hartford again, Clarksville and Sharon, Wilmington, Conneautville, supernumerary again, Bloomfield, West Farmington, Pierpont and Denmark Mission, Hendersonville, Burton, Edinburg, Jackson, Southington and Nelson, North Washington and Clintonville, superannuated. Brother Hubbard was a preacher well qualified for the times in which he did his most effective work—a man who felt that he was called of God to preach his word. He was eminently successful in winning souls to Christ, and hundreds were brought into the fold through his preaching.

Ezra Wade was born in Bristolville, Trumbull County, O., April 23, 1823, and died in Geneva, April 26, 1891. In Bristolville he grew to manhood, was converted, united with the Church, was married, was licensed to exhort and preach. From Bristolville he entered the itinerant ministry. In Bristolville, July 15, 1845, he was united in marriage with Miss D. E. Davis, his now bereaved wife. In July, 1851, he was admitted on trial in the Erie Annual Conference, and was duly ordained to the office of deacon and elder by Bishops Baker and Morris. He remained in the effective ranks of the ministry twenty-two years, and served the following charges: Ellsworth, Hartford, Southington, Mechanicsville, Green and Mecca, Williamsfield, Niles and Liberty, Rockville, Grand River, Kinsman and State Line, and Jackson. He then took a supernumerary relation and subsequently a superannuated relation, both in consequence of poor health. In the last named relation he remained till the great Shepherd and Bishop of souls transferred him to the city above, where they "move no more." He was always true to his Church and ministerial covenants, enjoyed and availed himself of the public means of grace whenever practicable, was an eager and interested listener to the preaching of the word, and an inspiration to the preacher. During the last few months of his earthly sojourn he seemed to be ripening for heaven and home.

William Homer Pettay was born in Sarahsville, O., August 14, 1862, and died at the same place June 14, 1891. At a very early age Brother Pettay gave evidence of a strong mind and unusual force of character; he was a born leader. He was converted at the age of fourteen, and at once joined the Church and became active in church work. In 1886 Brother Pettay supplied the Masterton charge in Cambridge District. More than two hundred souls were converted that year under his ministry. He was ordained a local deacon in 1887 by Bishop Andrews, and with a class of fifteen others he was received into the East Ohio Conference on trial. He was appointed to the Lower Salem charge on the same district, and the success attending his ministry was equal to that of the year preceding. The year following he served Woodsfield station, in Barnesville District, with equal success. He preached the plain Gospel with power and demonstration of the Holy Ghost. At the close of that year he was left without appointment, ostensibly that he might attend school, but primarily that he might care for his health. One year ago, in Cambridge, he was appointed financial agent of Scio College. But shortly after Conference he was stricken down with typhoid fever. After several weeks' illness he sufficiently recovered to travel about, but only to grapple with quick consumption. His death was most triumphant, the faith he had so effectively preached to others sustaining him to the last.

JOSEPH HOLGATE was born in Blackburn, Lancashire, England, May 16, 1864, and died at his home in Clarington, O., September 13, 1891. He was converted November 8, 1878, and three years later, September 18, 1881, was licensed to preach. In the spring of 1883 he came to America, and entered the ministry in the Methodist Church of Canada April 27, 1883. In this Church he preached two years at Brecen, one year at Utterson, and a part of a year at Tottenham, when he gave up his work because of throat trouble. He was married to Miss Smythe, who survives him, June 22, 1886. After reaching this country he supplied Sparta charge, in the Illinois Conference, for about three months, when he was appointed, September, 1886, by the Rev. C. A. Simons, to supply the Colebrook charge, East Ohio Conference. The following September he was appointed to the Hudson charge. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Andrews, September 18, 1887. At the Conference held in Salem, September, 1888, he was admitted on trial and appointed to Mogadore charge. At the conclusion of this pastorate he was admitted into full connection and appointed to the Clarington charge. Here he rendered faithful and acceptable service, but was overtaken by typhoid fever. For four weeks he wrestled with disease, with hopes and expectations that he should be restored to health, but on the beautiful, bright Sabbath morning of September 13, as the people of God were gathering for their Sabbath services, his spirit winged its way to be at rest with God amid the joys of the eternal Sabbath.

Cincinnati Conference.

THOMAS LEE was born in Cork County, Ireland, September 26, 1826. In 1849, at the session of the Ohio Conference held in Dayton, he was admitted on trial as a member of that body, and two years later received into full membership. His ministry was characterized by the ardor and enthusiasm and untiring industry which have contributed so largely to his exceptional success in the last, and probably the best, work of his useful life. He served the Church on the following fields of labor: Bainbridge, Waverly, Frankfort, Granville, Alexandria; Bigelow Chapel, Columbus; Asbury Church, Cincinnati; Batavia, Laurel, Goshen; Finley Church, Cincinnati, and one year as agent of the Ohio Wesleyan University, at Delaware. The great and crowning achievement of his well-rounded life, that for which he will be longest held in remembrance, and which links his name for all time with the history of Cincinnati, was in connection with the Cincinnati Union Bethel, of which he was the honored and successful superintendent and pastor for a quarter of a century. To this work he was called in 1865, when in the prime of his young manhood, and it is not too much to say that for twenty-five years his master-passion was to build up that noble charity, one of the most notable institutions of the kind in the world. It would be difficult to exaggerate his success in that praiseworthy endeavor; for, from a small beginning, by persistent efforts, unflagging zeal, and unfaltering faith, he advanced the Bethel to the rank of one of the largest missions in the world, embracing a church of seven hundred members, a Sunday-school with an average attendance of eighteen hundred the year round, a fine building admirably suited to its purposes, and an endowment fund of over $100,000. In May, 1853, Mr. Lee was married to Miss Caroline Langdon. Some one has said that "true popularity is not that which is followed after, but that which follows after;" and such was emphatically the popularity of Thomas Lee. He never sought popular favor, but it came to him. If in hundreds of homes of Cincinnati there is mourning, and especially among the lowly, it is because of the universal feeling that the community has lost a true and tried friend of the poor, a man of tenderest sympathy, of unbending integrity, whose life was devoted to the physical and spiritual improvement of that large class whom the priest and Levite alike pass by. Dr. Lee had, in a very high degree, moral courage—"the courage of his convictions." He had in him, indeed, the stuff of which martyrs are made. He could have died for the truth, but could never have betrayed it. He was a man of deep, sincere piety, and his religion was not devoid of feeling; but it rested rather upon the basis of principle than of emotion. As a preacher he was earnest, pointed, and practical. While soundly orthodox in his belief, and ready at all times to contend for the faith once delivered to the saints, he had little patience with the preaching that deals merely in "glittering generalities." That Dr. Lee fully recognized the disciplinary character of his sufferings, and that he was triumphantly sustained even in the furnace, is evident from expressions that fell from his lips from time to time while suffering the greatest bodily pain. "Yes," he said, "pain—one more pain, but heaven is more to us now than ever before." "O, Lord Jesus," he exclaimed at another time, "thou art all to me! Thou art all to me!" Addressing those about him, he said, a day or two before his death: "Keep yourselves in the love of the Lord Jesus and in the fellowship of the Spirit." The Bethel was evidently upon his heart until it ceased to beat. Shortly before his death he exclaimed: "O, the Bethel! the Bethel! They don't know any thing about the children. O, give them the truth as it is in Jesus!" The last audible expression he uttered was, "O, the crown! the crown!"

West Wisconsin Conference.

JOHN MEDD was born in Swinton, Yorkshire, England, June 16, 1815, and died at Avoca, Wis., February 27, 1891. In the spring of 1859 he took work as a supply under the elder, and the same year, in the fall, joined the West Wisconsin Conference. His appointments were as follows: West Salem, Melrose, Tomah, North La Crosse, Galesville, Hixton, Ridgeville, Elroy, Spring Valley, Chaseburg, Liberty Pole, La Grange, Avoca, and Excelsior. For fourteen years he was a trustee of the Galesville University, and through the entire period of his ministry an active supporter of educational institutions. His ministry was rich in blessings because he was a faithful pastor, an earnest and instructive preacher, an every-day Christian, a great, loving peace-maker, a many-sided man. In the church and in the home, in the pulpit and out in the world, in health and in affliction, he was considerate and kind, loving and true, exhibiting the simplicity of a child and the strength of a man.

WILLIAM OWENS was born September 17, 1821, in Cærnarvonshire, Wales. In 1847 he emigrated to America and settled in Dodgeville, Wis., where on March 13, 1848, he was married to Miss Jane Owens, who survives him. He was admitted on trial in the Wisconsin Conference at its session in Kenosha in July, 1848; was ordained deacon at Beloit by Bishop Hamline, June 30, 1850; ordained elder by Bishop E. R. Ames, at Fond du Lac, September 5, 1852. In 1857 he became a member of the West Wisconsin Conference, and was in active service eight years, when he took a superannuate relation, which he held at the time of his death, which occurred at Dodgeville, January 18, 1891.

CHARLES WESLEY BENNETT, D.D., was born in East Bethany, N. Y., July 18, 1828. He graduated at the Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., in 1852, and after teaching for several years he entered the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1862. In 1864 he resumed teaching as the principal of the Genesee Wesleyan Seminary at Lima, N. Y. From 1866 to 1869 he studied in the University of Berlin, Germany, and after preaching two years became in 1871 professor of history and logic in Syracuse University. In 1885 Dr. Bennett was elected to the chair of church history and archæology in Garrett Biblical Institute, which position he held until his death. Dr. Bennett was a lovable, loving, and therefore beloved man, minister, and teacher. He had sympathetic regard for the young, and the latter responded, because the teacher's sympathy was genuine. There was not a drop of guile in the man's soul. Dr. Bennett died April 17, 1891, of Bright's disease of the kidneys. He hoped until a week before his death to recover sufficiently to remove to a more favorable climate. Nearly all his friends indulged the hope that he would survive for some time, but soon the verdict of the physicians came that he could live but a short time. That verdict was followed by death within three days.

Pittsburg Conference.

Samuel H. Nesbit was born in Butler County, Pa., September 30, 1821, and died in the parsonage at New Brighton, on Sunday, April 5, 1891. He was received on trial in the Pittsburg Conference in 1847. He served in the following appointments: New Salem, Kittanning, Georgeville, Blairsville, Wellsburg, principal of Wellsburg Female Seminary, Warrenton, still serving as principal of Wellsburg Female Seminary, Richmond, president Richmond College, Richmond. In 1859 he was elected to the editorship of the Pittsburg Christian Advocate, in which he continued to 1872. He again returned to the pastorate and served Allegheny District, Washington District, supernumerary, Monongahela City, Butler, New Brighton, where after a brief but successful pastorate of six months he was on Wednesday evening, March 18, stricken with what proved to be a fatal sickness. The attack was sudden and violent, causing him to fall off his knees to the floor, and for a few minutes to lose consciousness. After nearly three weeks of pain he passed to his rest. Brother Nesbit was no ordinary man. His natural intellectual powers were of a high order, and were enlarged and disciplined by reading and study. His capacity for work was great, and he loved to work. He was among the ablest preachers of his Conference, his sermons and addresses being characterized by originality, breadth, strength, and finish, causing them to be remembered after years had passed away with a distinctness and vividness which would have been impossible had they been but commonplace. He was an able writer. His editorials in the Advocate during the twelve years he controlled it, and those in the paper supporting prohibition, published by him while a supernumerary, are proof of this. His recent book, The Sabbath of the Bible, is a work of great research and value, combining in a remarkable degree comprehensiveness with brevity. In his friendships Brother Nesbit was ardent, generous, and steadfast. In the social circle few could make themselves more agreeable. Brother Nesbit was thrice married. His first wife was Maria Portius, who survived her marriage but a short time. She died at Wellsburg, Va. His second wife was Miss Lida J. Moore, daughter of the Rev. James Moore, of Belmont County, O. The estimable woman who survives to mourn her loss was Miss Hattie C. Mann, of New Brighton.

Robert Finley Hopkins was born April 6, 1798, in Bourbon County, Ky., and died March 3, 1891, at his home in Sewickley, Allegheny County, Pa. In 1823 he was admitted into the Ohio Conference, and in 1825, by division, he fell into the Pittsburg Conference at its organization, where he spent the greater part of his useful life, filling many important and responsible charges. He filled the office of presiding elder for nineteen years, which was a longer period than any other man occupied the same office in the history of the Conference, and for three years that of book agent, at Pittsburg. He was five times a delegate to the General Conference. In times of church controversy and secession he was distinguished for his coolness, firmness, and unflinching loyalty. During his ministry he was connected with the following appointments, either as junior preacher, preacher in charge, or as presiding elder: Grand River, Beaver, Hudson, Youngstown, Pittsburg, Washington Circuit, Pittsburg, Monongahela District, Wheeling District, Pittsburg District, Beaver Street, Allegheny; Steubenville District, Beaver District, supernumerary, Beaver Street again, Allegheny; Sewickley, superannuated, Chartiers, Tarentum, Enon Valley, Allegheny Circuit, Uniontown District, South Common, Allegheny, superannuated again, Secretary of Seamen's Friend Society, superannuated again, Glasgow and Ohioville, and Freedom. In 1870 a superannuated relation was granted by the Conference, which he held to the close of his life. He was married November 14, 1833, to Miss Pamelia Scott, of Brooke County, Va., who survives him. As a preacher, Robert Hopkins was a workman that needed not to be ashamed. Whether dealing with philosophical or practical truth he seemed equally at home. His style was lucid, logical, and manly. He held his subject well in hand, always making out what he undertook.

Nebraska Conference.

W. J. Pitchford came to Nebraska in 1885 from the bounds of the Colorado Conference, taking work in the Republican Valley District, West Nebraska Conference, under the Rev. P. C. Johnson, presiding elder. He served in succession Riverton, Republican City, and Bertrand. He was transferred to the Nebraska Conference two years ago and stationed at Wilbur. After a year of intense suffering, during which he served the charge as well as he was able, he took a supernumerary relation, went to Erie, Col., where, in a few months thereafter, he died in the triumphs of the faith he had so earnestly preached. Brother Pitchford was a native of Wales. He was an earnest man, believed in old-fashioned Methodism and religion. He had the faults of an earnest, ardent man, but he was intent on the salvation of souls and the up-building of the Church. Two of the most promising young preachers of the West Nebraska Conference were brought to Christ and helped into the ministry by Brother Pitchford.

Puget Sound Conference.

John E. Leach was born near Centreville, Allegany County, N. Y., September 20, 1852. When twenty-six years of age he entered Garrett Biblical Institute, where, with the class of 1882, he graduated with honor. He joined the South Kansas Conference, and was transferred to the Puget Sound Conference in the fall of 1882, and was ordained deacon in the fall of 1888, and elder in the fall of 1886. He served the following charges: Centralia, Puyallup, Bay Center. He felt the need of rest, and desired a drier, milder climate, and at the next session of his Conference asked for a supernumerary relation and removed to Southern California, where, with failing health, he supplied the following charges: Cambria, Estrella, Creston. On May 19, 1885, in the city of Portland, Ore., he was united in marriage to Anna M. Mills, of Easton Rapids, Mich. Hoping to recruit his failing health, and be ready for work again, he retired from ministerial work in the fall of 1889. The disease of which he died, chronic bronchitis, still progressed, and closed his earthly career February 3, 1891. Brother Leach was a faithful minister, a kind husband, and a hard student, always looking out his texts in the original. He desired to know the full import of the divine word, and then prepared his sermons accordingly.

Illinois Conference.

William M. Johnson was born in Jacksonville, Ill., April 6, 1851. In 1873 he was received into the Illinois Conference and appointed to Ludlow, in the Champaign District. At the end of this year he located to attend the Theological School at Boston, where he spent three years. He preached regularly during that time, and had a pastoral charge for one year. He was ordained local deacon in 1877 by Bishop Peck, and admitted on trial and appointed to Auburn, where he served two years. In 1879, on account of ill health, he was granted a supernumerary relation and went to California. Having regained his health, he resumed his labors and served consecutively in San Francisco, Colfax, and San Rafael (in the latter two years). He transferred to California Conference in 1881 and was ordained while a member there. He returned to Illinois in 1884, and served as a supply at Green Valley in 1884 and Atlanta in 1885. Being transferred to Illinois Conference in 1886, he was re-appointed to Atlanta for 1886–88, and was stationed at Brooklyn charge in Jacksonville in 1889–90, where he ended his ministry and life February 20, 1891. Brother Johnson was an able preacher and a faithful pastor. He was especially gifted in the management of the Sunday and social meetings of the church and in his influence with the young. He was a man of one work, to which he gave his time and talents. Manliness, self-renunciation, courage, and gentleness were the marked traits of his character. He was attacked with typhoid pneumonia and survived but one week. From the first he was assured of the fatal character of the attack, and early arranged every thing for his departure, being almost constantly in a state of holy rapture.

George D. Randle, of the Illinois Conference, died on November 28, 1890, in the eighty-fifth year of his age. He was born in Montgomery County, N. C. In 1856 he was received on probation in the Illinois Conference; two years after was admitted into full connection, and continued a member until his death. He filled the following appointments: Walker's Grove, Bath, Quiver, San Jose, Rushville Circuit, Middletown, Mason City Circuit, Mainto, Chesterfield, and Winchester. To some of these he returned after years had intervened, and was always kindly received. As a pastor he was thoughtful and winsome, and looked well after the flock. As a preacher he was tender and pointed, always making his people see what he saw and feel what he felt. He had revivals at every appointment, and at some places they were of great power. At Walker's Grove, San Jose, and Chesterfield there were remarkable outpourings of the Holy Spirit, and great numbers were led into the faith and added to the Church. On April 24, 1828, he married Miss Lucy A. Arnold, who proved a helper to him in every way. He preached the first Methodist sermon preached in Mason City, and there, in his later years, he made his home.

William T. Bennett died in Mechanicsburg, Ill., on November 23, 1890. He was born in Jefferson County, Va., on November 30, 1805. In 1834 he came to Springfield, Ill. He married on June 6, 1836, Rebecca J. Roberts, at Ottawa, Ill. In 1849 Father Bennett entered the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church and became a member of the Illinois Conference. The first work assigned him by the Conference was as a supply to the old First Church at Springfield, Ill., to fill out the unexpired term of Dr. Jaques. The various charges he served during his effective relation to the Conference are in order as follows: Mechanicsburg, Sangamon, Griggsville, Sangamon, Athens, Middleton, Paris, Danville, Williamsville, Rochester, Harristown, Mechanicsburg again, superannuated. About eighteen years of service were given in effective relation to his Conference, and a great amount of voluntary service was rendered during his superannuate relation.

Curtis Powell was born near Caddis, O., on September 21, 1824. He married Miss Margaret Welsh on November 25, 1845. She proved a true helpmeet. At the session of the Illinois Annual Conference in 1853 he was admitted on trial. In 1856 he was ordained deacon by Bishop Simpson, and elder by Bishop Morris in 1858. The following were his appointments: Littleton Circuit, Columbus Circuit, Pulaski Circuit, Perry Circuit (here he buried two children); Clayton Circuit, Payson Circuit, Barry Circuit, Columbus Circuit again, La Prairie, Agent Quincy College, Bowensburg, Pulaski Circuit again, Bowen, Chatham Circuit, Lincoln Circuit, Mt. Pulaski Circuit, Decatur Circuit, La Prairie Circuit again, Plymouth Circuit, Bowen again, supernumerary; went to Oregon, supplied a circuit for six months under the presiding elder; was made effective and sent to Plymouth Circuit; was again granted a supernumerary relation, and so continued until his death. In the thirty-four years of his effective ministry he served fourteen charges. Four of these he served two, and one three, pastorates. Upon all he left the impress of his vigorous mind and holy life. His death occurred at the residence of his son, Rev. L. A. Powell, in Mt. Sterling, Ill., on January 30, 1891. His dying testimony, clear, calm, and confident, will ever remain fragrant in the memory of those who heard it. His ministry in and out of the pulpit was tempered by a masterful knowledge of human nature. His personal character was pure, noble, and well rounded.

Aquila Becraft McElfresh was born at Liberty, Md., May 20, 1820, and died in Jacksonville, Ill., January 15, 1891. In 1853 he was admitted on trial into the Iowa Conference and was appointed successively to Otter Creek, Maryville, and Cedar Rapids. By the division of the Iowa Conference he fell into the Upper Iowa Conference, and discontinued his effective relation in 1856. He was again received in the Illinois Conference on trial in 1872, and was appointed as follows: Mason City Circuit, Athens Circuit, Topeka Circuit, Mt. Pulaski, Mattoon Circuit, Humboldt, Tower Hill, Martinsville, Cisco, De Witt, and Deland, making sixteen years of service as a traveling preacher. At the Conference of 1885 he was granted a superannuate relation, which was continued till his death.

James Leaton, D.D., was born in the parish of Crowland, Lincolnshire, England, May 17, 1817. He was licensed to preach by Dr. P. Akers in the early part of 1843, and September of the same year was admitted on trial in the Illinois Conference. At Springfield, September 21, 1845, he was ordained deacon by Bishop Thomas A. Morris, and at Jacksonville, September 26, 1847, he was ordained elder by Bishop B. Waugh. His appointments were: Sangamon, Jacksonville Circuit, Jerseyville, Winchester, Alton, Griggsville, Quincy. In 1850 he was on the superannuate list, but filled the chair of natural science in McKendree College, to which he was regularly appointed the next year. In 1852 he fell into the Southern Illinois Conference and was continued in the professorship, though he spent most of the year as agent for the college. In 1853 he was appointed to Mt. Carmel, and the year following to Mt. Vernon, filling not only the station, but having charge of the Mt. Vernon Academy, to which he was appointed in 1855–56. Having resolved to return to his old Conference, he received a location in 1857, but still retained charge of the academy and station. Feeling the need of rest, he resigned both in the middle of the year, and at the session of 1858 was readmitted in the Illinois Conference, on which he filled the following appointments: Springfield, Quincy, Quincy District, Jacksonville, West charge, Danville, Bloomington, Carlinville, Pana District, First Church, Decatur; Clinton, Paris, Rushville, Centennial agent, Jacksonville, Brooklyn, Griggsville. In 1888, being worn out, he was granted a superannuate relation. He was elected from the Southern Illinois Conference to the General Conference of 1856, and from the Illinois Conference to the General Conferences of 1868 and 1876. He was also a member of the Centennial Conference of 1884. He had received the appointment as delegate to the late Ecumenical Conference, but he resigned the delegacy to join the assembly of saints in the paradise of God. For four years—from 1864 to 1868—he was a member of the Missionary Committee. As a preacher he was in many respects a prince. He was scrupulously biblical, yet drew from every available source of art, science, and history to illustrate the teachings of the word. His power in the analysis of Scripture, his graceful syntax and impressive presentation of truth, made his declarations often appear axiomatic. He made studious and prayerful preparation for preaching, generally using extensive notes, sometimes complete manuscript, though a pleasant, logical, and graceful extempore speaker. His ministry was blest with many revivals of religion. The more marked were those of Jacksonville, Danville, Springfield, and Quincy. He was married August 20, 1844, to Miss Sarah E. Lockerby. As he stood on the margin of the eternal world he could say with St. Paul: "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith: henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, shall give me at that day: and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing." On September 11, 1891, he calmly and quietly left us to join the saints above, to meet those old companions with whom he fought in the great battles of life—Fairbanks, Kimber, Cartwright, Akers, Rutledge, Crane, Prentice, and a long line of our sainted dead—with whom and the multitude of the blest to be forever with the Lord.

Kentucky Conference.

James C. Gill was born in Newburn, N. C., on July 3, 1835. Brother Gill began his religious life when a child in North Carolina. He kept it up after going to Baltimore, and on the very day of his arrival in Louisville he handed his church letter to the pastor of one of the Methodist churches of that city. In 1872 he received license to preach, and about five years thereafter took work as an itinerant preacher in the Kentucky Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. In 1883 he was located at his own request, and took up his residence in London, where he labored faithfully in church and Sunday-school work. In 1887 he became partially paralyzed, and at the session of the Conference held that year at Greenup was re-admitted into the traveling connection and granted a superannuated relation. From that time his health became gradually more and more infirm. In the early part of October, 1890, he received the third paralytic stroke, which terminated in his death on the 26th of the same month. Brother Gill was a good man, full of prayer and the Holy Ghost. He was faithful to the obligations of the Christian life. He possessed a tender, gentle, loving spirit, and was much loved by the people among whom he lived. He died in peace.

John G. Bruce was born in Pittsylvania County, Va., April 5, 1810. In 1816 he removed with his parents to Hillsborough, O., where he grew to manhood. In 1831 he was received on trial into the Ohio Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Up to 1841 he filled the following appointments: Greenville Circuit, which had twenty-eight preaching places in four weeks, Straight Creek, Springfield, Troy, Madisonville, Lancaster, West Union, Charleston, Marion. In 1841 he was transferred to Kentucky, and stationed in Newport, Danville, Flemingsburg, Georgetown, Lawrenceburg, Taylorsville, and Cynthiana. He was then placed in charge of the Harrodsburg District, Lexington District, Maysville District, and Lexington District. Thrown by the division of the Church, in 1844–45, into the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, he continued in that branch of the Church until 1865, when, with others, he became again connected with the Methodist Episcopal Church, and was placed in charge of the Lexington District, Louisville District, Nicholasville, Danville, Lexington District, Middlesburg, and Danville. In 1887 he was placed on the superannuated list. He died of old age at his home, "Ingleside," near Danville, on December 29, 1890. He was a man of great purity of life and unimpeached veracity. His word was received without doubt by all who knew him. He was in labors abundant. Quiet, resolute, unflinching, through rain and snow, heat and cold, he made it a matter of the highest honor to fill all his appointments, to meet all his engagements. He was modest, true, thoughtful, wise, courageous, and great. His married life began on September 4, 1834, when he espoused Miss Annie Ross, of Cincinnati, and ended on May 1, 1886, when she departed this life.

North India Conference.

Allan J. Maxwell was born in Crawford County, Pa., on May 13, 1851. His first year in the ministry was in Jackson, Mich., where he was a pastor, greatly beloved. In 1883 he received his call to come to India as a missionary, and with characteristic decision obeyed the call. As soon as he arrived among us we saw that he had come to work and help and spend his strength in the Master's service. During his first four years of faithful work on his charge in Cawnpore he won many souls for Jesus, made strong the hearts of the wavering, and strengthened the hands of all his fellow-laborers. He loved to preach to and visit among the people, and deeply regretted to give up his pulpit, when a severe throat difficulty made it a necessity. While in Cawnpore he began India's Young Folks, and when transferred to take charge of the Press in Lucknow he still continued to speak to India's young people by means of his pen. During the last three years of his life he fought courageously against disease, not allowing weariness or disease to make him think of giving up his loved work; finally, when acute disease disabled him, and he was preparing to go back with his family to America, that swift destroyer, cholera, attacked him. His death occurred on the evening of October 20, 1890.

P. B. Grey. [Obituary not received.]

Detroit Conference.

W. E. Bigelow was born in New Lebanon, Columbia County, N. Y., May 3, 1820, and died at Millington, on Wednesday morning, October 8, 1890, of the same disease that proved fatal to the Rev. Dr. Bayliss—a virulent carbuncle. His health had previously been much impaired by a serious attack of la grippe. At the session of the Michigan Conference of 1841, held at Niles, he was received on probation and commenced his life as an itinerant Methodist preacher. In 1843 he was received into full connection at Ann Arbor, and ordained deacon by Bishop Janes, in Detroit. At the time of his death he had just completed fifty years' continuous service (one year as a supply). He earnestly desired to live and complete the rounded period of fifty years in the traveling connection. He spent thirteen years in circuits, twenty-five years in stations, and fourteen years as presiding elder, two years of which, when he was at the "Soo," he was both pastor and presiding elder. His best friends think that in the presiding eldership his greatest work for the Church was accomplished. He was a very earnest and faithful pastor, and on most of the charges that he served conversions occurred, and on several very large revivals. At Maple Grove, Saline, Court Street, Flint; Lapeer, and Ishpeming, his labors were wonderfully blessed of the Lord, and more than a hundred new-born souls were added to each charge during his pastorate. He was twice a delegate to the General Conference, in 1860 and 1864. He was a member of the Western Book Committee for four years, and enjoyed nearly all the honors in the gift of an Annual Conference. At the General Conference of 1864 the chairman of the committee introduced a resolution proposing to change the restrictive rule on slavery, which, after debate, was passed by a vote by ayes and noes of two hundred and seven for to nine against. The rule, as changed by that vote and subsequent action of the several Annual Conferences, stands now in our Discipline in the exact language suggested by Brother Bigelow in a series of articles published in the North-western Christian Advocate about the early part of 1860. His first wife was the daughter of Rev. Seth Mattison, of the Genesee Conference, to whom he was married March 5, 1845. She died in Lapeer, May 3, 1878. Brother Bigelow was married the second time to Mrs. Emma J. Shaw, at Saginaw, July 2, 1879. He was wonderfully sustained during all his intense sufferings.

James Madison Fuller was a New Englander, a native of the Green Mountain State, born in the town of Kirby, Caledonia County, October 4, 1807. In July, 1828, he was admitted on trial into the New England Conference, which, before the close of its session, was divided so as to form a new Conference, the New Hampshire and Vermont. Brother Fuller fell into the new organization, and was appointed to the Chelsea Circuit. His ministerial life, covering a stretch of sixty-two years, has been divided between four Conferences and twenty-five charges. From the New Hampshire and Vermont Conference he was transferred in 1843 to the Genesee, in 1867 to the Michigan, and in 1870 to the Detroit. His appointments in New England were Chelsea, Athens, West River Mission, Weathersfield, Rochester, Chelsea again, New Market, Concord, Claremont, and Barnard. Those in New York State were Avon, Rochester, Lockport, Buffalo, Albion, Le Roy, Batavia, Bergen, and Buffalo. He was also twice presiding elder, having charge of the Genesee and Buffalo Districts. During his connection with the Genesee Conference he also spent some four years as agent of the Tract Society and as agent of the American Bible Society. In 1854 occurred in western New York the "Nazarite movement," resulting in the Free Methodist Church. It was during his eldership of the Genesee District that the War of the Rebellion opened, and under advice from Bishop Ames he offered himself for service in the army. He became colonel of the 105th Regiment of the New York Infantry. In the Michigan Conference he had but one pastorate, that at Lowell. In 1870 he began his labors in the Detroit Conference, undertaking the responsible church at East Saginaw, then burdened with an overwhelming debt. It was a critical time in the history of the church, and Brother Fuller was a man of the courage and business ability to render substantial service. He then had charge of our churches at Ypsilanti, Jefferson Avenue, Detroit; Saint Clair, and Calumet. He was also presiding elder for four years of the leading district in the Conference, the Detroit. While pastor at Calumet, in January, 1887, in the eightieth year of his age, he was run over at a street crossing by a recklessly driven team of horses and knocked down. The injury proved serious, resulting in partial paralysis, so that for most of the time since he has been able to move about only a little unless assisted. Brother Fuller was married July 6, 1831, at Tunbridge, Vt., to Mary C. English. Mrs. Fuller died March 7, 1869, at Saranac, Mich. In October, 1871, Brother Fuller was married to Sophia M. Tidd. During his active ministry of fifty-nine years, up to the close of his Calumet pastorate, Brother Fuller was always on the effective list, no change being made in his relation to the Conference during his service in the army. Brother Fuller was a sturdy man. His brusque exterior was a thin veil over a frank, honest, brotherly interior. He wanted men to be plain and straightforward with him, and he reciprocated. Before his transfer to Detroit Conference, before our personal acquaintance began, Brother Fuller had already reached and passed the meridian of his laborious, successful, and distinguished career. He came to us a stranger, but he immediately identified himself with all our interests. He felt, and we felt, that he was one of us, from the day of his first appearance among us. His nature was a wonderful harmonious combination of extremes. He seemed like one of the Covenanters risen from the dead, and inspired by the spirit of modern progress. His features, glances, motions, tones, and men all proclaimed his restless activity, impetuous energy, colossal self-reliance, and stern, inflexible determination. But under these rugged surface indications, at no great depth, there lay a rich mine of tender sensibilities, ardent affections, pure conscientiousness, sound judgment, incorruptible fidelity, and unfaltering devotion to God, to Arminian theology, to Methodistic economy, and to friendship.

James H. Morton was born on April 11, 1833, in Ayrshire, Scotland, and his earthly pilgrimage was completed by a fatal railroad accident near the village of Lake Charles, La., on May 10, 1891. In 1875 he changed his relation from the Protestant to the Methodist Episcopal Church, and was at that date received into the Detroit Annual Conference. His pastoral charges among us have been as follows: New Boston, Stockbridge, Lakeport, Armado, Capac. From 1883 to 1886, because of impaired health, he held a supernumerary relation, residing on his farm. Returning to an effective relation in 1886, he served the Church two years on the Mead charge. In 1888 he was appointed to Brown City, and in 1889 to New Haven. One year ago this brother, at his own request, was again changed from the effective to the supernumerary list. This was done with a view to a possible change of climate for the benefit of Mrs. Morton's health. In October last, under direction of the presiding elder, he took charge of a small work at Welsh, La., where he seems to have been doing good work by way of organizing the Church of his choice and preparing the way for its future usefulness.

James Harvey Caster was born in the town of Rose, Wayne County, N. Y., September 4, 1818, and died at Gaines, Genesee County, Mich., May 17, 1891. In the fall of 1855 he united with the Michigan Conference on trial, and was appointed to Commerce. The Conference being divided the following autumn, he remained on the Detroit side of the line, and by the new Conference was received into full membership and ordained deacon by Bishop Janes at Pontiac in September, 1859. He was ordained elder by Bishop Ames in Detroit, September, 1861. He gave nearly thirty-two years to the pastorate, serving during those years Commerce, Hartland, Perry, Oak Grove, Fowlerville, Ingham, Byron, South Lyon, South Flint, Watrousville, Perry again, Hamburg, Salem and Northfield, Leroy, Walled Lake, New Boston, Iosco, Webberville. After his superannuation in the fall of 1886 he lived with his son for four years within the bounds of the Bay City District; and being still anxious to do something for the Church, the presiding elder employed him eight months of 1887–88 in the Vanderbilt charge, where he did helpful work. In March, 1890, he had an attack of la grippe, from which he never fully recovered. In the early autumn of 1890 he moved to Gaines, in the hope of relief. It came not. He said to his family: "If my work is done, and the Lord has nothing further for me here, I am ready to go." His final sickness continued little more than two weeks. His end was that of a loyal, faithful, efficient servant of God.

Rock River Conference.

Seymour Stover's career of fifty years in the itinerancy terminated at Wheaton, Ill., January 26, 1891. He was born at Bennington, Vt., February 21, 1814, and converted January 28, 1837. He gave himself to the work of the ministry, and joined the Rock River Conference in 1841. This was the next year after the organization of the Conference, and from that time till his death, with two or three exceptions, he was at every session. His first work was the Du Page Circuit, including Saint Charles and Aurora, and the territory between Fox River and Chicago, of over 1,600 square miles. In 1842 he was sent to Muscoda, a circuit of over 3,000 square miles. In this year his marriage occurred with Miss Lucy A. Patterson. In 1843 the young wife and mother was called to her rest. In 1845 he went to Hennepin, where, during the year, he married Miss Maria H. Robertson, who survives him. Brother Stover's ministerial work widened with years, building churches, preaching in new centers of influence, and laying foundations on which others to this day are building. The places served by him, not hitherto referred to, are: Iroquois, Wheeling Circuit, Little Rock, Kaneville, Plainfield, Downer's Grove, Belvidere, Beloit, Morris, Lockport, Ottawa, Polo, Wheaton, Savanna, Elwood, Kaneville again, Wyanet, Oswego, Prophetstown, and East Paw Paw. In these places churches were begun, colonies sent out to new centers, young men called to preach, and revivals of remarkable scope and power conducted. But one charge was reported without conversions, while in many different years hundreds were reported by him at Conference. Brother Stover was of a mold and mettle in which early Methodism abounded. He excelled in patient endurance of hardships, in industry as a student, in skill and force in the pulpit, and in unfaltering faith in God. His style was clear and accurate, and remarkable for beauty and force. His testimony invariably was: "My faith, as it ever has been, is firm in the fatherhood of God and the mercy of his Son, Jesus Christ, and on this I entirely depend. My only hope is in the cross of Christ."

Wesley Batcheller was born at Blomfield, Hamden County, Mass., May 28, 1798. In 1804 his parents removed with their family to Homer, Cortland County, N. Y. At the Annual Conference, during which Genesee and Oneida Conferences were separated, he was appointed agent of the Cazenovia Seminary. In the fall of 1831 he was received on probation in the Oneida Conference and appointed to Madison Circuit, to which charge he was re-appointed at the next Conference session. September 29, 1833, he was ordained elder by Bishop Elijah Hedding at Cazenovia, and appointed to Cazenovia Circuit. In 1839 he joined the Illinois Conference, and was appointed to Indian Creek Circuit, and later he was transferred to Ottawa. When the Rock River Conference was organized at Mount Morris, in 1840, he was present and became a member. He was appointed successively to Lockport, Princeton, and Newark Circuits. His health failing, he took a superannuate relation, supplying Newark Circuit, and afterward becoming Bible agent for La Salle, Kendall, and De Kalb Counties. He was married to Mrs. Patience Hall in Homer, Cortland County, N. Y., in 1818. She died in the triumph of the faith February 17, 1868, beloved by all who knew her. January 8, 1872, Wesley Batcheller was married to Mrs. Rahama Sampson at Freedom, La Salle County, Ill. She died April 21, 1888, and he, unable to do any further public work, retired to his home at Freedom. He died as a man of God dies. A Christian character does not fear the grand and final earthly experience.

Robert Miller Hatfield was born at Mount Pleasant, Westchester County, N. Y., on February 19, 1819. He began his preaching life at Pawtucket, R. I., when but twenty-two years of age. He was licensed as a local preacher on February 21, 1841, and was ordained deacon on June 11, 1843. On July 19, 1843, he was married to Miss Elizabeth Ann Taft, of New York city. His successive appointments were at Newport, R. I.; Warren, R. I.; Sandwich, Mass.; New Bedford, Mass.; Matthewson Street, Providence, R. I.; Fleet Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Washington Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Forsyth Street, New York; Stamford, Conn.; Flushing, L. I.; First Place, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Fleet Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Wabash Avenue, Chicago; Centenary Church, Chicago; Saint Paul's, Cincinnati, O.; Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa.; First Church, Evanston, Ill.; Langley Avenue, Chicago; First Church, Chicago. During the winter of 1886–87 he had charge of the Summerfield Church, Brooklyn, N. Y. During 1884–88 he was a member of the General Missionary Committee. From 1878 until his death he was a trustee of the Northwestern University. In 1890 he took a supernumerary relation to the Rock River Conference. He was five times a delegate to the General Conference. He died at Evanston, Ill., on April 1, 1891, and was buried at White Plains, N. Y. Few pastors were so well and widely known as Dr. Hatfield. Few have rendered so long and effective service to the Church as he. For fifty years he preached the word with great faithfulness to sinners and great comfort to believers. He never shunned to declare the whole counsel of God, as he understood it. He was a straightforward, courageous, manly preacher of the Gospel. However men might differ from him in opinion they could not help respecting both him and his opinions. His life was thoroughly loyal to Christ. As a preacher he was never barren of thought or weak in expression. He always had something to say that was worth saying, and it was always said with unmistakable directness. His last illness was of brief duration, and at the ripe age of seventy-two he "fell on sleep."

Elijah H. Gammon. When God raises up a man with brain enough to see a great opportunity and heart enough to give it a great response that man's life is worth more than a passing notice. Such a man was Elijah H. Gammon, who died at his home at Batavia, Ill., on the morning of July 3, 1891. Gilmore Pond plantation, afterward called Lexington, Me., was his birthplace. He was the eldest of six children, and was born December 23, 1819. At twenty-four he was licensed to preach and received into the Maine Conference. In the same year, 1843, he was married to Miss Sarah J. Cutler, of Wilton, Me., and it was to this town that he went as his first appointment, with a salary of one hundred dollars. In the Maine Conference he labored successfully for eight years, but in 1851, on account of failing health, he came to Illinois, and the next year was admitted to the Rock River Conference, in which he remained until the time of his death. His first appointment was Saint Charles. The next year, in 1853, he went to Jefferson Street, Chicago, which was the nucleus out of which Centenary Church has grown. The next year he was sent to Batavia as pastor of the new church there. Here he remained one year, and was then appointed presiding elder of the Saint Charles District, and continued in charge until 1858. In that year, his health again breaking, and his bronchial trouble having become chronic, he was obliged to leave the active ministry. He was superannuated in 1858. Brother Gammon's ministry was successful. He labored for results, and God gave them both in the temporal and spiritual growth of his kingdom. It was only when necessity was laid upon him that Brother Gammon turned his attention to secular business. In 1835 occurred the death of his wife. In 1856 Brother Gammon was married to Mrs. Jane C. Colton, the excellent and accomplished woman who survives him. The business career of Brother Gammon, which began in 1859, is important to us not so much because it was successful as because a full measure of that success was turned into the channels of the Church and unto the glory of God. He had remarkable business instinct. He was at once keen and far-sighted, yet conservative and safe. His plans were comprehensive, including the minutest detail, and his executive ability equally great. When wealth began to come to his hands he regarded it and used it as God's gift. As the passing years added to his generous fortune they added also to the large purposes for God's kingdom that, rich or poor, had always throbbed within him. His interest in the cause of education was specially notable and practical. To the Maine Wesleyan Seminary he gave $5,000, to the Garrett Biblical Institute $10,000. But the crowning work of his life, and that which ranks him among the foremost philanthropic sons of the Church, has been, as we all know, the foundation and endowment of the theological seminary at Atlanta that bears his name. Into this there has already been put more than two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and by the provisions of his will this amount will be raised to nearly half a million. He was a man of few words, reticent, thoughtful, coming to deliberate conclusions, and hard to move from them. As a Christian he was simple and sincere. He believed that theology was the best that made the best men and women. His home was one of prayer, his heart one of obedience, his piety practical and helpful.

Aaron Gurney was born in New York in 1832, and died in Wesley Hospital, Chicago, September 20, 1891. He was licensed as a local preacher and admitted on trial in the North-west Indiana Conference in 1853, admitted into full connection and ordained deacon in 1855, and graduated to orders in 1857. He traveled Union and Lebanon Circuits, served a term at Strange Chapel, Indianapolis; Danville, Stockwell, and Valparaiso Stations. In all these charges he was recognized from the first as a man whose influence would come to be of great power in the Church. In 1861 he took a location and entered the army as chaplain of an Indiana regiment, in which he served with credit to himself and honor to the Church. After the close of the war he was president for a year or more of the Valparaiso male and female college, and studied and practiced law. In 1874 he was re-admitted to the Rock River Conference and served acceptably Maxwell and Ada Street Churches, Chicago; First Church, Batavia; Elgin, and First Church, Batavia, again. While serving his last charge his health failed and he was compelled to relinquish his charge before the end of the Conference year. He moved to Springfield, Ill., and assumed the editorial control of a daily paper. He labored hard to place himself beyond the necessity of calling upon his Conference for help, but had at last reluctantly to surrender to the inevitable and allow himself to be put as a claimant upon the Conference fund. He asked that he might sleep in the Conference lot at Rose Hill, which request was granted.

Lewis Meredith was born in North Wales January 23, 1829, and died at his home in Oak Park, Ill., September 29, 1891. He was converted when a lad of thirteen, and began preaching before he was out of his teens. His first year was spent in Cazenovia Seminary, to prepare himself the better for the English ministry. He joined the Black River Conference in 1861, and served on the Trenton, Kemsen, Floyd, Fairfield, Oswego, and Adams charges. In 1865, when at Oswego, he was married to Miss Nellie Phelps, daughter of Rev. A. J. Phelps, of the same Conference. He transferred to the Rock River in 1869, and filled with credit the following charges: Rockford, Third Street and Court Street; Chicago, Langley Avenue; Sterling, Waukegan, and Freeport. It was on his last charge that his health failed. After a season of rest he so far recovered as to feel warranted in organizing a Welsh mission in Chicago in 1887, which was the last ministerial work he did in the Church militant. As a preacher he was logical in his methods, clear and forceful in his presentation of the truth, and thoroughly loyal to God and the Church of his choice. He excelled as a pastor, and was welcomed in all the homes as a man of God, and was a great favorite with the children. His last illness was long and full of suffering, but he found in an all-sufficient Saviour that help and comfort which he needed.

Ohio Conference.

Albert C. Byers was born in Uniontown, Fayette County, Pa., in 1826. His ministry was in the Ohio Conference. December 7, 1852, he was united in marriage with Miss Mary A. Rathbun, of Cheshire, O. He continued in the ministry until the war broke out, filling the following charges: Gallipolis, Piketon, Franklin Furnace, Pomeroy, Marietta, Swan Creek, and Circleville. From the latter station he went as chaplain of the Thirty-third O. V. I., and served eighteen months. The hardships proved too much for him, and he came back to his home in Circleville much broken in health. In 1864 he was appointed pastor of Bigelow Chapel (now Third Street), Columbus, where he remained one year and a half, when he was elected chaplain of the Ohio penitentiary. He at once resigned his charge and entered upon his prison work, and it was at this point that the real work of his life began. He remained as chaplain of the penitentiary six years. He had a genial nature that made him friends wherever he went. He preached the Gospel with a warm heart and a gifted tongue, and the people were deeply impressed and profited by his ministry. His platform addresses were remarkable for their strength and natural eloquence. Worn out with the toils of life, after many weary months of affliction, he entered into rest November 10, 1890.

Harrison Z. Adams was born near Richmond, Va., December 24, 1807. In 1843 he was admitted on trial into the Ohio Conference at Chillicothe and appointed to Sabina. His subsequent fields of labor were as follows: Jasper, Texas, Guyandotte, Charleston Circuit, Guyandotte again, Charleston District (the West Virginia Conference having been organized); Morgantown District, Rome (he having been transferred back to the Ohio Conference); Gallipolis, Coolville, Mt. Sterling, in the Union army, Rome again, Gallipolis District, Stratford, Elizabethtown, Bowling Green, Uniontown, agent of the tract and temperance societies, Hebron, Maxville, Junction City and Shawnee, Rushville. In 1883 he superannuated and moved to Orange, Cal., where, March 17, 1891, a long life of faithful service to God and the Church closed gently in peace and holy triumph in the bosom of his family, aged eighty-three years. He was married three times. April 7, 1830, in Botetourt County, Va., he was united in marriage with Miss Rosannah Fifer. April 14, 1839, he was married to Miss Margaret Dye, of Madison County, O. She lived only four years after their marriage. July 3, 1848, he was united in marriage with Miss Elizabeth Chambers, of Guyandotte, Va., who survives him.

Joseph McDowell Trimble, D.D., was born in Woodford County, Ky., April 15, 1807. He died in Columbus, O., Wednesday, May 6, 1891. In 1828 he was admitted to the Ohio Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church as a traveling minister. He was married to Sarah Pearson Starr September 22, 1830. In 1834 he was elected secretary of the Ohio Conference, in which capacity he served for the unprecedented period of thirty-one years. He filled the office of secretary of the General Conference for two sessions of that body. In 1835 he was appointed Professor of Mathematics in Augusta College, Kentucky, a position which he accepted and filled until 1840, when he resigned. In 1864 he was elected second assistant missionary secretary for the West, which position he held for four years. Dr. Trimble traveled three circuits and spent thirteen years in the cities of Zanesville, Columbus, and Cincinnati as a pastor. He was presiding elder of the Columbus, Chillicothe, East Cincinnati, Zanesville, Marietta, and Lancaster Districts, making in all forty-eight appointments which he received from the authorities of the Church, every one of which he filled with eminent ability, fidelity, and success. He was an active member of the board of trustees of the Ohio Wesleyan University since 1852, and its financial agent for about twenty years. He was a trustee of the Ohio University at Athens for sixteen years, and only resigned this trust because of the necessity of devoting his energies to the Ohio Wesleyan University. For thirty-two years he served on the General Missionary Committee. He served the Church as one of the advisers of the Church Extension Society for about fifteen years. He was a trustee of the Methodist Episcopal Church at large. In 1844 he was elected a delegate to the General Conference, and served the Church in that capacity until his death. He answered the roll-call of his own Conference sixty-one times. As a winner of souls he was not surpassed by any man of his generation. A few days before his death he realized that his hour was approaching, and immediately began making all the necessary arrangements for the end. If there was a class of men he loved more than any other it was his brethren in the ministry. His heart was with them to the last. His last message to his pastor was to "pray for the success and welfare of the Church." That was the nearest thing to his heart.

Clinton W. Bostwick was born near Chillicothe, O., December 2, 1847, and departed this life July 15, 1891, aged forty-three years. He was admitted on trial into the Ohio Conference at Logan, October 13, 1870, and was appointed to the South Salem Circuit. He was married to Miss Lizzie Zurmehly, November 8, 1870. After his first year Brother Bostwick's appointments were as follows: Staunton and Good Hope, Mifflin, Junior Class Ohio Wesleyan University, Richmond Dale, Johnstown, West Jefferson, New Lexington, Moxahala Avenue, Zanesville; Canal Winchester, where he closed his labors to enter upon his heavenly reward. He was ordained deacon September 29, 1872, by Bishop Scott, at Zanesville, and elder October 4, 1874, by Bishop Wiley, at Newark. He was a good preacher, a faithful pastor, a successful revivalist, a skillful manager of men, and an able financier. He fed the flock, visited the sick, cared well for his converts, and took special interest in the young.

Central New York Conference.

William H. Pearne, D.D., was born in the city of London, England, within sound of "Bow Bells," January 23, 1816. When four years of age his parents brought him to America. In 1836 he was admitted on trial in the Oneida Conference. He filled most acceptably many appointments, possessing in a remarkable degree the ability to unite and build up disrupted and lagging charges. His singleness of purpose in serving the Master was so manifest that failure was impossible, and his mind was so firmly set upon his work that the ordinary affairs of his life were often neglected, and his personal matters were not financial successes. For a number of years he was agent for the American Bible Society in eastern New York. At the breaking out of the war he took a lively interest and active part in securing volunteers and fitting out troops, and was very anxious to enter the service of his country in a military capacity, but was dissuaded upon the ground that his natural eloquence and his earnest labors would accomplish more in other fields. Early in 1865 he went to New Orleans, La., to reorganize and build up the churches there, which had become broken up and their members scattered and discouraged by the vicissitudes of war, and also to look after the spiritual welfare of the large army congregated there. And here again his interest in his work and his unselfish devotion to the cause in which he was enlisted shone forth. From New Orleans he went to Memphis, Tenn., as presiding elder of the West Tennessee District, and established many churches throughout that portion of the State. At that date it required courage as well as zeal to work for what was called the "Church, North," as is evidenced by the fact that on some occasions when every building was closed against him, and he had gathered together a congregation in the woods, using a stump for a pulpit, gangs of the rough bush-whacking element mounted on horses and armed with shot-guns sought to break up the meeting, swearing that no Yankee should preach in that neighborhood. He held them at bay, a revolver in each hand and the Bible open upon the stump before him, and concluded the usual way. While in Tennessee he held several important positions, among which was that of Superintendent of Public Instruction and Superintending Commissioner of Police for the city of Memphis. During his administration of the latter office the gambling-houses and brothels which had run openly for years were closed, and the city enjoyed the most orderly period of its history; his most bitter opponents accorded him the credit of the best police administration the city had ever known. In 1837 he married Miss Phebe M. Wright, of Tompkins County, N. Y. She died in 1842. September, 1843, he was married to Miss Clarissa Jeanette Dillaye, of De Ruyter, N. Y. In October, 1885, she passed to her reward, and in January, 1887, he married Mrs. Mary J. Russell.

Thomas Tousey was born in Covington, Genesee County, N. Y., August 24, 1823. In 1848 he joined the East Genesee Conference. The townships of Portage and Nunda included several villages and school districts where services were held, and together they were called Nunda Circuit. The Nunda church gave Brother Tousey his license to preach, and so high was their regard for the abilities of their "boy preacher," as they fondly called him, that they requested the bishop to appoint him first to their circuit. This fact was always a gratification and inspiration to him. After serving the Nunda Circuit he was pastor of churches in the following places: Painted Post, Addison, Dundee and Starkey, Trumansburg, Penn Yan, Palmyra, Asbury, Rochester; Geneva, Corning, Palmyra again, Penn Yan again, First Church, Elmira; Watkins, Aurora Street, Ithaca; Seneca Falls, and Clyde. He was also presiding elder of the Elmira and Cazenovia Districts four years each. In these various places he did forty years of pastoral work. In each place he accomplished some marked religious work and endeared himself to many hearts. In 1874 Brother Tousey married Miss L. Elizabeth Andrus, daughter of Chester Andrus, of Portage. His fondness for Elmira led him to choose it as the home in which to spend the declining years of his life. While at Clyde he received the first warning of approaching death in a stroke of paralysis, though he by no means gave up his hope of recovery. He moved to his Elmira home, where, ever hopeful and cheerful, he remained for nearly three years, until God took him home to heaven.

William Jones was born in Heuvelton, N. Y., November 1, 1826, and died in Syracuse, N. Y., January 7, 1891, aged sixty-four years. His early life he spent at the place of his birth except when at Governeur and Ogdensburg. At the age of fifteen years he was converted and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. From boyhood he gave tokens of his future calling by his fondness for what pertained to ministerial life and his efforts to preach to his companions. Soon after his conversion his call to the Christian ministry became clear to himself and the Church, and he received his first license from Rev. Ebenezer Pease in the year 1847. A church letter given from Ogdensburg, and signed by Rev. P. D. Gorrie as pastor, shows that he held this relation in 1848. He was employed as a supply on Bangor Circuit by the presiding elder. At the session of the Black River Conference of 1850 he was admitted on trial and appointed to Massena, and afterward he served successively: Parishville, Cape Vincent, Rose Valley, Cato, Pulaski, Camden, Mexico, Scriba, Baldwinsville, Lowville, Canton, Herkimer, Little Falls, Lyons, Marcellus, Jordan, First Ward, Syracuse; Owasco, Chittenango, Tully, and Ovid, at which place he closed his active work of forty-one years in the ministry of the blessed Gospel and the pastorate of twenty-three different charges. He worked—and worked faithfully and effectively—to the end. He was admitted into full connection with the Black River Conference in 1851 and ordained deacon by Bishop Janes. In 1853 he received elder's orders from Bishop Simpson. Brother Jones was faithful in all things. He could not be superficial nor indifferent in the work of the Church. He said a few days before his death, "I have been misunderstood sometimes by my brethren because I could not consent to let matters pass as of trifling importance. I felt that I must be thorough and just right. But my heart has been warm and loving toward all." In May, 1851, he was united in marriage with Miss Emily Buck, of Buck's Bridge, Saint Lawrence County, N. Y. His decline began two years ago, but, while suffering much at times, he persistently held to his work, preaching, as it seemed to his friends, with greater liberty and unction than ever, as if he must crowd into the brief time left him years of work. Compelled at times to stop a little, still he held on until his physical powers were completely exhausted. At the last session of the Conference he asked for a supernumerary relation, and laid down his burden and laid himself down to work no more. His struggle with the fact that his active work was ended was hard, but sweet submission came, and with it joy and peace in Jesus most delightful.

Elizur House was born in Washington County, N. Y., July 24, 1808, and died in Sempronius, Cayuga County, N. Y., March 23, 1891, in the eighty-third year of his age. He was admitted on trial in the Oneida Conference in 1855, and was received into full connection in 1858. He was pastor of thirteen different charges, was returned twice to former charges, and his pastorate extended from 1849 to 1878, in which year he took a superannuated relation. As a preacher Brother House was earnest, fervent, eminently spiritual, and at times his efforts were attended with most blessed results. He was a man of strong character, and in addition to his pulpit utterances his every-day life stood as a bulwark against the tide of wickedness and wrong.

Orrin Trowbridge was born in the town of Tully, N. Y., October 29, 1809, and died in Newark, N. Y., April 5, 1891. He was received on trial in the Genesee Conference at the session of 1839, and appointed to Rushville and Middlesex, with Abner Chase preacher in charge. In 1840 he was at Lawrenceville, Pa.; in 1841 on Canton charge, Pa. In June he married Martha Genung, of Havana. After traveling in the itinerancy about twenty-five years Brother Trowbridge felt that the time had come to give his children a higher education, and moved to Lima, still continuing to supply adjoining charges three or four years. While at Lima he was elected steward of the Genesee Wesleyan Seminary, and continued three years. His excellent financial skill and executive talent were brought into requisition. His appointments, beyond the years mentioned, were: Lawrenceville, Canton, Corning Circuit, Castleton and Orleans, Sardinia, Pike and Portageville, Aurora, Covington (Genesee Conference divided, transferred to East Genesee Conference), Mansfield and Wellsborough, Victor, Pultneyville, Lodi, Waterloo, Benton Center, Mount Morris, Walworth, South Sodus, superannuated and moved to Lima, Taylorville and Canadice, supply; steward of Genesee Wesleyan Seminary, Lima.

Selah Stocking was born in Glastonbury, Conn. Soon after his conversion, which occurred when he was about eighteen, he felt the inward call to the work of preaching the Gospel, and entered Wilbraham Academy, of which Dr. Wilbur Fisk was then principal. Under Dr. Fisk's hand he received both his license to preach and was recommended to the New England Conference. He was received on trial the same month and year in which he had been licensed. He immediately took rank as a preacher, his first appointment being Marblehead, then a leading appointment. His following appointments in that Conference were: Higham, Andover, Lynn, Newburyport; all in Massachusetts. At the beginning of this year he was married to Miss Mary Blood. In 1828 he was transferred to the Oneida Conference and was one of its charter members. His first appointment was at Wilkesbarre, Pa., where he had the most entensive revival of his ministry. He held his rank in this new Conference. In it his appointments were as follows: Windsor Circuit, Berkshire, Windsor Circuit again, Auburn, Cortland, Corning, Sauquoit. In 1846 he was appointed to the Chenango District, where he remained his full term. During the ensuing Conference, which was held in Honesdale, Pa., he was nervously prostrated, but he so far recovered as to take light work, and with some alterations as to his Conference relations he served the following charges: Pittston, now in Wyoming Conference, Sherburne, Cooperstown, Fort Plain, Stockbridge, Canastota, Marcellus, Wall Street, Auburn; Jamesville and Dewitt. From 1872 he lived a quiet but blameless life in retirement in the city of Syracuse, where he was most highly esteemed, co-operating with his pastor in all the work of the Church as a valuable counselor and helper, where he died in great peace and assurance, April 10, 1891, aged eighty-five years.

J. L. Seabury Grandin was born in Papakating, N. J., April 17, 1804. He was converted in 1827, and in 1831 received his first license to preach at Hector, N. Y. In 1841 he joined the Genesee Conference and was appointed to Angelica. In 1842 he taught school and supplied Honeoye Falls, and in 1843 supplied Westfield, Pa. September 21, 1844, he was married to Miss Elizabeth M. Knapp. He was ordained deacon in 1845 by Bishop Hedding, and elder in 1849 by Bishop Morris. A severe throat difficulty, from which he never fully recovered, led him to superannuate in the fall of 1866. Brother Grandin was actively employed in the ministry of the Genesee and East Genesee Conferences twenty-two years. His preaching was scriptural, methodical, interesting, and very instructive. On special occasions and before large audiences, as at camp-meetings, his sermons were grandly eloquent and laden with convincing power. He was eminently suited to a great occasion.

George W. Foster was born in Masonville, Delaware County, N. Y., September 11, 1831, and died in Masonville, May 9, 1891. He received a fair education at Unadilla Academy, at Franklin, N. Y., and at Wyoming Seminary, Pa. He was converted at nineteen years of age, under the labors of Rev. E. P. Beebee, at Masonville, N. Y. His conversion was bright and clear, and he died in the triumphs of faith. He was received on trial in the Oneida Conference at Ithaca, April, 1860. He served the Church as a minister for thirty years in the Oneida and Central New York Conferences. His motto was: "Be ye filled with the Spirit."

Albert S. Durling was born in Trumansburg, N. Y., December 23, 1844. He was united in marriage October 25, 1865, to Miss Alice M. Chapman, of Trumansburg. He was received on trial in the East Genesee Conference in 1870 and served in that Conference Beaver Dams and Big Flats charges. In the Central New York Conference he served Rutland, Townsendville, Freetown, Georgetown, Scott, East Steamburg, New Albany, South Sodus, Erin and Breeseport, West Dryden, Gorham, and Milo Center. Brother Durling was a man of strong convictions and positive traits of character, and had a deep religious experience. He preached with zeal, force, and power. He loved to be in revival work, and generally had on his charges good revivals. He dearly loved the doctrines and polity of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and was faithful and true in all his work. It may be truthfully said of him, "He was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith." Through his labors and instrumentality many souls were converted and brought into the Church. His health became very much impaired during the second year of his pastorate on the Gorham charge, so that some time during that year was spent at the Sanitarium at Geneva. He died June 18, 1891.

Porter McKinstry was born in the town of Junius, N. Y., February 13, 1812, and died in Penfield, N. Y., August 1, 1891, in his eightieth year. He joined the Genesee Conference in 1838. His first circuit was Eden. It was a year of great prosperity. When the East Genesee Conference was organized in 1848 he fell within the boundaries of that Conference, and was stationed that year on the Ontario Circuit, Rochester District, then one of the most important circuits in the Conference, having a membership of four hundred. Brother McKinstry filled with great credit the office of presiding elder on the Bath and Corning Districts in the East Genesee Conference, and in 1860 he was one of the delegates to the General Conference which convened in Buffalo. On September 9, 1839, he was united in marriage to Miss Chloe Ann Hadley, who died at Hopewell, N. Y., October 26, 1887. When the East Genesee Conference was absorbed and lost its identity Brother McKinstry's lot fell within the bounds of the Central New York Conference, of which he was a member when he died.

Alfred J. Barltrop was born in Essex, England, December 12, 1847. His conversion was thorough, and hence satisfactory. After spending some time in local preaching he was employed in 1874 as assistant to the Rev. J. R. Gundy, in the Toronto Conference, Methodist Church, Canada. Waterford was his first charge. Subsequently he spent three years at the Methodist School of Theology, Montreal. In 1881 he was transferred to the Manitoba mission field, where for four years, with his slight body, he braved the rigors of the inhospitable climate. In 1885 he took work in the Central New York Conference and was faithful in all his service till the year 1890, when congestion of the lungs began the end which came in a brief year. As a pastor Brother Barltrop was unremitting in his sedulous care; the details received as earnest labor as if they were his entire work. In pulpit ministration he was emphatically a teacher. Though cheerful, he was profoundly reverential. His preaching was practical, and he saw results. A good, pure, true man of God has gone to his reward, and the unfeigned sorrowing of those who knew him best attest his real worth.

Michael Coyle was born of respectable Catholic parents, was converted at a Methodist meeting when a young man, and felt the call of God to preach the Gospel of Jesus Christ. He earned money enough to give him an academic course, and entered the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the Genesee Conference in 1857. By the change of boundary line he fell into the Central New York Conference, of which he was a member at his death. The period of his ministry was thirty-four years, during which he won many souls for Jesus Christ, having been very successful as a "revival preacher." His last charge was Odessa, where he had a very prosperous time, leaving the church strong in numbers and finances. He was some years a supernumerary, during which time he was engaged as a merchant, at which business he was very prosperous. His last work on earth was in the interest of Christ's kingdom. He had been engaged to address a Sunday-school picnic on an adjoining charge, and after driving eight miles in an open vehicle, when the mercury was up to ninety or one hundred, he spoke very earnestly for an hour, and then, after refreshments were served, he again addressed the people for forty minutes. By this effort he became very much exhausted and drove home, feeling very poorly, was not able to get out of the vehicle without help, staggered across the lawn, sat down on a chair, his wife sent for a doctor, but before he arrived our brother was unconscious, never returning to consciousness until death took him on August 28, 1891. Brother Coyle was naturally eloquent, especially so in prayer, and often spoke with great unction and power. He was benevolent, open-hearted, and kind.

John H. Day was born in Warwick, N. Y., June 22, 1819. He was admitted on trial in the East Genesee Conference, and was appointed to the historic and renowned Loyalsock Circuit, a very small part of which now constitutes the Forksville charge. He was subsequently pastor of the following charges: Springfield, Canisteo, Thurston, Potter, Canoga, Mecklenburg, Horseheads, Hector, Jacksonville, Havana, Rush, Bellona, Hopewell, Gorham and Voak, Canoga again, Rose, Lodi, Enfield and Kennedys, Millport, Milo Center, Reading Center, and Millerton. With scarcely an exception revivals attended his ministry upon these charges, some of them of great power and extent. For forty years he answered to his name at the roll-call of his Annual Conference. Brother Day's preaching was eminently practical, evangelistic, and fervent. As a pastor he had few equals, and the success of his ministerial life was due to his systematic, industrious, and religious visiting of the people committed to his care. One year ago our brother found his health and strength so impaired that he was constrained to ask for a superannuated relation. During the past year he preached often and was active in church work, though it was apparent to his family that his strength was gradually and steadily declining. He died at his pleasant home near Nelson, Pa., October 4, 1891.

Southern Illinois Conference.

J. W. Lowe was a native of Kentucky. In 1852 he was received on trial in the Illinois Conference. In 1854 he was received into full connection in the Southern Illinois Conference. His appointments were: Golconda, Vienna, Jonesborough, Carlyle, Vandalia, Waterloo, Cairo and Mound City, Carbondale, Equality District, DuQuoin District, Chester, Brighton, Upper Alton, Albion, Grayville, Chester again, Carbondale Circuit, Richview, Irvington, Saint Elmo, Shiloh, Piasa. In 1884, at his own request, he entered the superannuate ranks. He died in Preston, Kan., October, 1890, in holy triumph.

North Ohio Conference.

THOMAS SCANTLEBURY was born in Downgate, Cornwall, England, April 10, 1853. He came to America in 1886. His first work was as a supply under the Rev. G. A. Hughes, the presiding elder of Wooster District, North Ohio Conference, being appointed to Blake's Mills charge, where he remained three years. At this place, August 2, 1883, he was united in marriage to Miss Bertha Niederheiser. In 1885 he was admitted on trial into the North Ohio Conference. Brother Scantlebury was an honor to the Conference, and his associations among his brethren were cordial and generous, and second only to those of his family. As a preacher he was above the average, and his pastoral work was limited only by failing strength. One element especially prominent in his character was that of sympathy. Many an afflicted home has been made happier by his kind words. He loved his people. He was an affectionate husband and a tender parent. Loudonville henceforth has consecrated ground, for in her cemetery sleeps till the heavens be no more the dust of a holy man.

J. IRA MATTHEWS was born near Polk, Ashland County, O., February 2, 1860, and died at his home in North Royalty, O., June 8, 1891. At the North Ohio Conference of 1887 he was admitted on trial and left without appointment to attend school. The school year of 1887–88 he attended Garrett Biblical Institute, in Evanston, Ill. In September, 1888, he entered Baldwin University, at Berea, O., and at the same time served Litchfield charge as a supply. At the Conference of 1889 he was appointed to the South Royalton charge, and re-appointed in 1890. On this, his first regular work, he demonstrated by his energy and true devotion that the Church had made no mistake in committing her interest into his keeping. Christian faith gave him victory over every obstacle, implicit trust in God gave him power over men. As a true Christian man he was without a superior, esteeming others above himself to the degree that of him it can be truly said there was a complete abnegation of self. As a student he was thorough, unwilling to lay aside a book until he had mastered its contents, and had in his mind a well-defined outline of the author's arguments. As a preacher Brother Matthews was clear and logical, with an earnestness which convinced the hearer that the speaker believed and felt what he said. Though not demonstrative or excitable, his life exhibited a felt interest in his work and an intense loyalty to the principles of truth and righteousness. Although his connection with the Conference was brief, he had gained the confidence of the brethren and the abiding love of the people he served as pastor. On June 11, 1890, he was united in marriage with Mary Lash, of Polk. His last illness was brief, la grippe, with its concomitants, soon doing its fatal work. Expressing his usual faith and confidence in Jesus, he passed quietly away to be with his Lord.

ALTON H. TILTON was born in Easton, N. Y., November 17, 1808, and died in Mount Vernon, O., August 2, 1891. In September, 1833, he married Miss Hannah M. Lovejoy. He was received on trial in the Oneida Conference in 1832, and sent to Herkimer Circuit. Bishop Hedding ordained him deacon at the Oneida Conference in 1835, and elder at the Black River Conference in 1837. Except a few years located between 1842 and 1849, he has been since 1832 in connection successively with the Oneida, Black River, Genesee, and North Ohio Conferences. Brother Tilton came to the ministry from the cabinet shop with almost no school preparation. He brought to his work an active devotion and a mind of rare natural acumen, which, with better training and more leisure from outside pressure, might have developed with brilliancy and worth. His early ministry was very active and quite successful. He always looked back to it with pleasure. "I felt," he said, "that I was called into the ministry by the Lord, and I went." Of his work as a whole he himself said: "As to successes and failures I have no data. God was my looker-on and it was useless for me to inquire; one thing I know, the little I have done lies heavy on my heart and is my greatest regret."

STEPHEN FANT, a superannuate of the North Ohio Conference, died on Sunday evening, October 26, 1890, in Mount Gilead, O. He was buried in the Oaklawn Cemetery, Delaware, O. Stephen Fant was born in Fotherby, England, March 20, 1807. He was united in marriage with Miss Hannah S. Knapp on May 24, 1837. On July 12, 1845, he became a member of the North Ohio Conference at its session in Tiffin, O. From that time until impaired health compelled him to desist from active service he ceased not to warn men to flee from the wrath to come and accept salvation. When wearied by years of earnest toil he retired to Lebanon, O., where his wife entered the heavenly rest, March 18, 1885. His last years were spent in the home of his daughter, in Mount Gilead, where, with loving care from all the family, he fell asleep, aged eighty-three years. Brother Fant was a man of affectionate nature, loving and appreciating his friends; a man simple, therefore strong; sincere, therefore firm in his convictions. No man could be more free from self-seeking or harshness than he. As a minister he was faithful, earnest, devoted, and conscientious, and was very successful in turning souls to Christ.

North Dakota Conference.

WILLIAM A. CHEUVERONT was born in Jackson County, W. Va., August 24, 1850, and died in Columbus, O., May 3, 1891. He joined the West Virginia Conference at its session held in Fairmount in 1874, and served Hamlin, Wyoming, Coalburg, Fayette, East Charleston, Ripley, West Union, Point Pleasant, Letart and Leon, Ceredo, Middlebourne, Smithton. He then took a transfer to the North Dakota Conference, and was stationed at Inkster, where he remained about six months. He then returned to Point Pleasant and went into business, where he remained until the time of his death. He was twice married; first to Miss Almeda A. Mahone, in September, 1874, who died August 24, 1882; he then married Miss Fannie Brown, near Point Pleasant, February 20, 1884. Brother Cheuveront was a good preacher. He went to Columbus, O., and died very suddenly in his room at the hotel from what the physicians pronounced heart trouble and congestion of the brain.

Holston Conference.

ELBERT BENSON CLARK was born in Hawkins County, Tenn., October 10, 1830, and gently fell asleep in Jesus at his home in McMinn County, Tenn., April 3, 1891. Brother Clark married when quite young Miss Sarah A. Peavler. Sometime after the death of his first wife he was united to Miss Sallie C. Morrison. He was admitted on trial in Holston Conference October, 1870. At Cleveland, Tenn., October 6, 1872, he was ordained deacon by Bishop Merrill, and two years later, at Chattanooga, October 4, 1874, he was ordained elder by Bishop Andrews. He traveled the following circuits: Sneedville, Tazewell, Fincastle, Clinton, Sevierville, Little River, Oakland, and Fullens. For nineteen years he was an itinerant preacher. On each and all of these circuits he did efficient work. As a revivalist Brother Clark was unexcelled in his Conference. As a pastor he was a true Pauline type, and as a preacher he was imaginative and eloquent. But his strongest power was in his great ability in prayer. At the session of the Conference of 1887 Brother Clark took a superannuated relation. There he made his last report, and said as he put his missionary collection into a little hand-satchel the treasurer held for that purpose: "This is my last report. I have prayed to live to see this session of the Conference and to make this report, but I shall not see another Conference and shall not make another report. My work is done. I am worn out. God bless you and the missionary cause."

W. H. ROGERS. [Obituary not received.]

South-east Indiana Conference.

JOSEPH TARKINGTON was born in Nashville, Tenn., October 30, 1800, and died September 21, 1891, being nearly ninety-one years old. He was converted in August, 1820, and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church in June, 1821. He was received on trial in the Illinois Conference in August, 1825, and appointed to Patoka Circuit, which consisted of five counties, "his pay being nine dollars and a pair of trousers." His subsequent appointments were as follows: Sangamon Circuit, White Lick, Rushville, Vevay, Wayne, White Water Circuit, Indiana Conference; Greensburg, Charlestown, Greenville, Vevay again, superannuated, Lawrenceburg, Richmond, Liberty, Centerville, Centerville District, Brookville, Vincennes District, Putnamville District, Greensburg District, South Indiana Conference; agent for Asbury University, Milroy, Saint Omer, superannuated again, Belleview, Westport, superannuated again, Indianapolis City Mission, superannuated again. He died on the sixtieth anniversary of his marriage. On September 21, 1831, he was married to Miss Maria Slawson.

THOMAS CLARK CRAWFORD was born in Salem, N. Y., October 10, 1818, and died in Cincinnati, September 18, 1891. He was admitted on trial in the Indiana Conference in 1843, and admitted into full connection in the same Conference and ordained deacon by Bishop Hamline October 12, 1845. He was ordained elder by Bishop Waugh October 10, 1847. He served the following charges: Russellville, Bowling Green, Liberty, Connersville, Brookville, Vincennes. In 1849 he was transferred to Iowa Conference and stationed at Keokuk, Sabula, Fort Madison. In 1852 he was transferred to South-east Indiana Conference and appointed to Liberty, Saint Louis, Laurel, Fairfield, Columbia, superannuated, Clarksburg, Everton, Columbia again, Burlington, located, Marietta, Liberty again. North Vernon, Manilla, superannuated again, but supplied Glenwood, New Trenton, Sugar Branch. Having moved to Cincinnati, he supplied the following charges: Riverside, Findlay and Blanchester. He had great love for the Methodist Episcopal Church, and showed his love by earnest prayer and labor for its interests. He was faithful to every duty.

LEMUEL M. REEVES was born in Cumberland County, N. J., March 6, 1809. He died in Versailles, Ind., December 14, 1890, aged eighty-one years. Fifty years of this long and useful life were spent in the ministry of our Lord Jesus Christ. He was married to Miss Emily Upjohn, his now bereaved companion, in 1836. He began his ministry in 1833 as one of the pioneers of early Methodism in the State of Indiana, and rode on horseback his circuits when there were no church buildings. His meetings were held in school-houses and private homes, and these meetings were often attended by great manifestations of the divine Spirit, and realized in seeing the new-born souls coming to Christ. In 1856 he was transferred from the Indiana to the Kentucky Conference. He traveled for thirteen years in this Conference, four of which he was presiding elder of Covington and Maysville District. In 1868 he was transferred to the South-east Indiana Conference, and located his family at Milan, Ind., but continued in the active work of the ministry. About four years preceding his death Father Reeves received a stroke of paralysis, which affected him more or less until his death. After spending a long and useful life he felt that his work on earth was done, that he had fought the good fight of faith, and that a crown was awaiting him among the blest. After six weeks of patient endurance of the general giving way of the physical man, he was peacefully called to his spiritual home. He was admitted to the Indiana Conference October 16, 1833, and appointed as follows: Fall Creek Circuit, Connersville, Brookville, Greensburg, Mount Vernon. In 1838 he was transferred to Erie Conference and appointed to Parkman Circuit, Hudson. He was transferred to Indiana Conference in 1840, and served Scipio, Vernon, Liberty, Winchester, Mooresville, Brownstown, located. He was admitted to Kentucky Conference, 1856, and appointed to Augusta and Germantown, Asbury and Alexander, Hamson, Orangeburg, Covington and Maysville District, Augusta, Falmouth. The fall of 1868 he was transferred to the South-east Indiana Conference, and appointed to Guilford, Versailles, Delaware, Mount Sterling, North Vernon, superannuated, Medora, Elizabethtown, superannuated again, and then he was transferred to the Church triumphant.

WILLIAM HENRY WYDMAN was born in Lancaster, O., March 10, 1842. In the spring of 1861 he enlisted in the Eleventh Ohio Regiment, and continued for forty-four months in the field, and was retained four months afterward for special work in the barracks at Columbus, O. He was with General Sherman in his march to the sea, yet through all the exposures and dangers of the camp and the field he held steadily on to his integrity, and his Christian character continued to shine with untarnished luster. May 1, 1865, he was united in marriage to Miss Lucy E. Minor, of Columbus, O. In 1869, at Park Street Church, Cincinnati, O., under the pastorate of Rev. Lucien Clark and presiding eldership of Rev. James G. Chalfant, he was licensed to preach. In 1870 he was received on trial into the South-east Indiana Conference, where for seventeen years he prosecuted his ministry. Three years ago he was attacked with pneumonia, which, after eight or nine days, took on a typhoid form; this long held him in its relentless grasp, and finally left him with a permanent and fatal wound in his shattered constitution. From that time he was rarely able to go beyond his threshold. During the course of his disease through more than three years of failing strength and weary weakness his sufferings were often very great, but they were endured with a patience that seemed to have its "perfect work." He passed quietly away Friday, November 7, 1890.

North-west Indiana Conference.

PHILANDER WILEY was born February 23, 1823, in Mechanicsburg, O. In 1839 he entered the Indiana Asbury University. In September, 1846, he took charge of Prattsville Collegiate Institute at Prattsville, Wis. While occupied in that position he married Miss Fannie Crosby. In 1848 he became principal of Elston Male and Female Academy at Crawfordsville, Ind. In the summer of 1852, while teaching in the County Seminary, Covington, Ind., at the solicitation of Rev. G. M. Boyd, presiding elder, he consented to the presentation of his name to the Annual Conference for admission on trial. The fourth Quarterly Conference for Covington being past when this consent was obtained, the presiding elder took his case to the Attica Quarterly Conference, where he was recommended, and in September, 1852, he was admitted on probation in the North-west Indiana Conference. The following are his appointments in the Conference: Romney Circuit, Brookston Circuit, Delphi, Asbury Chapel, Terre Haute; La Porte, Plymouth. In the summer of 1860 he was elected to the chair of Greek language and literature in the Indiana Asbury University, his alma mater, entering upon the duties of the chair in September. The urbanity, ability, and success with which for twenty years he filled the place constitute the delightful theme of reminiscence among the alumni and students of that period. Always seeking to promote their best interests and cherishing fatherly affection for them, they soon learned to look to him with filial reverence and love, and to go to him for sympathy and counsel in all important matters, especially at critical times in their lives. In 1880, with his health and that of his wife completely wrecked, he vacated his chair in the University for one of his most cherished students, Professor H. A. Gobin, D.D., now dean of the De Pauw University School of Theology. Retiring from the work he so loved, he began a most heroic struggle for life and self-support. Believing that the pure air of the great mountain city, Denver, would be helpful to his health and to that of his wife, and that the activities of a rapidly growing city and State would be favorable to business success, with his loyal wife he removed to Denver, an entire stranger to almost every one. A few of his old students were there, who greeted him with the utmost cordiality and stood by him to the end. For awhile success was all that could be expected for a man of broken health in business paths entirely new to him. For the last four or five years he was unable to attend to any business, being a very great sufferer in a constant struggle for existence, with a deep experience in hardships and privations, but without a murmur or complaint, and in spirit growing more and more Christlike. At last, after weeks of confinement to his bed, his mind almost constantly wandering, at nine o'clock on the night of September 22, 1891, he quietly, sweetly fell asleep in Jesus. As a preacher Dr. Wiley was clear, simple, scriptural. His ministry was always attended by large and interested congregations. As a pastor he greatly excelled. He was genial, approachable, affable. The survivors of his former charges cherish his memory with lasting affection.

James W. Harris was born in Vigo County, Ind., in 1845. In 1861 he enlisted in Company H, Second Cavalry, Forty-ninth Regiment, Indiana Volunteers. He took part in all the engagements with his regiment at the siege of Corinth, the battle of Gallatin, and in Buell's struggle for the mastery in Kentucky. In 1870 he entered the ministry of the Church in the North-west Indiana Conference. In 1881 he married Miss Madge Donnohue, of Greencastle, Ind. His ministerial appointments were Terre Haute, Covington, Crawfordsville, Thorntown, and Michigan City. In the latter place he served for five years, being one of the first of our preachers who remained that long in one charge. Here, as at all his stations, he was regarded as an efficient minister of the Lord Jesus, a Christian gentleman, a man zealous in all the work of the Church, careful and painstaking in pastoral duty, able and earnest in the pulpit, an active worker in the Sunday-school, and especially devoted to the welfare of the young. Having been appointed, without solicitation on his own part, to take charge of the Indiana Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home, he accepted that position in February, 1890. He and his companion were eminently qualified for, and more than usually successful in the mental, moral, and religious instruction and improvement of that important charge. His exacting labors and responsibilities weighed heavily, however, on energies already overtaxed in the service of the Church and of his country. Seeking much needed rest, and to secure the best medical aid and service, he left his home, and after visiting Indianapolis, Saint Louis, and New Orleans, he expected to return by way of a sea voyage around by New York. But in the latter city, on June 11, prostrate in mind and body, the weary, worn-out wheels of his earthly life stood still, leaving his mortal remains to the loving care of devoted friends, while his spirit returned to God who gave it.

James B. Gray was born in Butler County, O., and died at his home near Rhodes, Ia., January 18, 1891. On December 19, 1839, he married Miss Elizabeth Overpeck. In 1852 he became a member of the North-west Indiana Conference. He remained in the active work eleven years, filling the following appointments: Rockville, Montgomery, Crawfordsville, Darlington, Ladoga, Newtown, Thornton, Alamo. In 1863, on account of broken heath, he took the relation of superannuate. He was a good man and abundant in labors. Wherever he lived there are monuments of his faithfulness. Nearly all his work was done without earthly compensation. He built many churches and brought over one thousand persons into our membership. The people loved to hear him preach. At the time of his death he filled the offices of class-leader and Sunday-school superintendent.

West Virginia Conference.

J. W. W. Bolton died March 19, 1891, in his fifty-seventh year, at Palatine, W. Va., while pastor of Fairmont charge. His death was sudden. He had just closed the services of a very interesting revival, when he was attacked by the malady, which was not regarded as beyond the reach of medical skill, and which his friends hoped would be overcome by his apparently robust constitution. A heart trouble, however, followed, and his vigorous form yielded to its power. When the Civil War broke out he was moved by patriotic instincts to enlist in the army. He raised a company of fellow-soldiers. From the rank of captain he was promoted to a chaplaincy, serving in this office with great acceptability till he was wounded. At the close of the war he resumed his pastoral work. He was presiding elder two terms and was honored by his brethren with a seat in the General Conference. With an attractive personal presence, he graced the pulpit with ministerial dignity. His mental powers were of a high order. He was devoted to study, especially of the word of life, an expounder rather than an exhorter, a commentator rather than an illustrator. A Christian gentleman, he was commanding out of the pulpit as well as in it. Gifted and genial, he won the friendship of many who will long embalm his name in their memory.

George Crosfield was born in Leeds, England, September 23, 1821, and died at his residence in Berkeley Springs, W. Va., March 5, 1891. He married Dorothy Botterill, of Bramham, England, April 24, 1843, and the following May sailed for Quebec, Canada. At the close of the late Civil War he was received into the Baltimore Conference. He remained with it six or seven years, during which he proved himself a friend to loyalty and a magnificent defender of Methodism. He is well remembered as a preacher of more than ordinary ability, brilliant in repartee, and fearless in duty. For some reason he was transferred to West Virginia Conference, and continued a member of that body. In 1882, his health failing, he asked a superannuated relation, and had been living in the midst of his children at Berkeley Springs, W. Va. Brother Crosfield died of general paralysis, brought on by a fall from a horse, in November, 1890. He lingered until March 5, 1891, when, falling into a gentle sleep, he passed to the other shore.

T. H. Trainer died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Thomas Evans, in Benwood, W. Va., April 19, 1891, aged seventy-one years, and in the forty-second year of his ministry. He was admitted on trial in the West Virginia Conference June 8, 1853. His successive appointments were: Lumberport, Monongalia, Fetterman, Marion, Grave Creek, Marshall, Wesley Chapel, Mannington, Benwood, presiding elder Guyandotte District, Morgantown Circuit, Blackville. In 1887 he took a superannuated relation. Some time during the year 1837, at Beverly, Va., he was married to Jane Hart, who died December 10, 1874. August 10, 1875, he was married to Mrs. Urana Loyd, who died June 10, 1881. March, 1882, he was married to Elizabeth Tibbs, who lives at Morgantown, W. Va. He had a fine physique and strong, well-balanced mind, a genial temperament, and a pronounced religious experience. His sermons were models of symmetry, clearness, and culminating force. He had a ready command of good language, which molded into original and sometimes delightfully apt and quaint forms of expression. His voice was rich and musical, and he was successful in winning souls and in edifying the Church. He served as chaplain in the Twelfth West Virginia Infantry, and represented Marshall County in the House of Delegates in 1865–66. Like Jehoiada the priest he has a noble civil record for a man in the sacred ministry. He was loyal to the Church, his country, and his God.

Central Ohio Conference.

Henry E. Pilcher was born in Virginia, April 28, 1802, and died in his home at Marysville, February 15, 1891. In 1829 he was admitted to the Ohio Conference, and for sixty-two years sustained the relation of an itinerant preacher. When he entered the Ohio Conference its territory embraced all of what now constitutes eight Conferences. He preached in the log-cabin, the school-house, and the church, in sparse settlements, in the village, the town, and city. In the pulpit he was clear, forcible, practical, and, at times, exceedingly eloquent. He possessed aptitudes for revival work, and his ministry was frequently attended with great awakenings and numerous conversions. Dr. Pilcher belonged to the oldest school of Methodist preachers, and retained his fellowship with them until death. But he belonged to the progressive wing of this school. His test of a church law or usage was its excellence rather than its age. He was a man of marked individuality of thought and action. At the May meeting of the bishops, in Delaware, in 1889, Brother Pilcher called upon them while in session, and beginning with the senior bishop, took each of them by the hand. When he came to Bishop Goodsell he said, "Now I have shaken hands with every bishop of the Methodist Conference from Asbury to Goodsell." He was therefore contemporaneous with the present century. He lived during the periods of this century's greatest advancement and most conspicuous progress. February, 1891, he folded the wings of his immortal spirit at the feet of the Crucified, and prayer now is lost in praise.

John Poucher was born in Lincolnshire, England, December 22, 1822, and died in West Unity, O., July 8, 1891, in his sixty-ninth year. Brother Poucher was twice married; the first time to Miss Mary Coltore, of Lincolnshire, England. In 1854 he immigrated to the United States. In 1857 he joined the Central Ohio Conference, and for thirty-four years gave his energies and consecrated life to the service of the Church in the ministry of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. He filled while a member of the Conference the following charges: Williams Center, Napoleon, Brunersburg and Evansport, chaplain in the Thirty-eighth Ohio, without appointment, Bowling Green, West Unity, Delta, Sylvania, Fayette, West Unity again, supernumerary, Montpelier, superannuate, Elmore, West Toledo. In 1889, at the Conference held at Upper Sandusky, he took, at own request, and while still in demand, the relation of a superannuate. While pastor in Bowling Green Brother Poucher sustained the loss of his wife. In about a year thereafter he wedded Mrs. Mercy Poe. As a preacher Brother Poucher was earnest, scriptural, and spiritual, his sermons abounding at times in anecdote. His preaching was always interesting, frequently convincing, and had in it the gospel sickle. As a pastor he was diligent, genial, watchful, and there was in him the "look up" quality and force; nobody escaped his attention or lost his notice or failed to receive from him help in need, both tangible and spiritual. In the sick-room and at the death-couch he was eminently at home, and by his counsels and prayers often bore the weary and fainting spirit up into the nearer and stronger support of infinite grace and boundless love. His nature was warm, glowing, tropical, and in all his pastorates he was popular, personally loved, and widely appreciated.

James William Shultz was born in Adams County, O., February 2, 1855, and died in Gilboa, O., January 19, 1891. He was converted and united with the Church at the age of eight years. On April 6, 1876, he was united in marriage to Miss Emma J. Flesher. Brother Shultz served the Church as a local preacher very faithfully for four years, was recommended and admitted into the Central Ohio Conference in September, 1884, at Defiance, O., and at the same Conference was ordained as a local preacher to deacon's orders by Bishop Bowman. Brother Shultz quickly ran his race in the Christian ministry; but during this time he ran well, and many will rise up and call him blessed. He came to Gilboa, a new charge, last fall, and at once entered upon his work with great spirit and devotion. He had passed his first quarterly meeting, organized his work all around the circuit, arranged his plans for revival efforts, and had already commenced his first protracted meeting, when the busy worker was arrested by an attack of lung fever. In five weeks the toiling hands were folded and the ardent embassador of Jesus Christ answered the summons to come up higher.

Des Moines Conference.

William Alonzo Chambers was born near Rochester, N. Y., July 11, 1810, and died in Garner, Ia., October 5, 1890. He was married at Utica, Mich., May 12, 1846, to Miss Sarah M. Wright. In the fall of 1856 he was received on trial in the Southern Illinois Conference, and appointed to Bunker Hill. In 1857 he served Shiloh, and at the close of the year removed to Wisconsin, joining West Wisconsin Conference, and being appointed to Melrose, where he remained a full term. He was ordained deacon at Monroe, Wis., April 10, 1859, by Bishop Baker, and elder at Sparta, Wis., September 9, 1860, by Bishop Scott. He was appointed in 1860 to Eau Claire, where, besides building up a flourishing church, he succeeded in projecting Eau Claire Wesleyan Seminary, with a full corps of teachers, over a hundred students, and grounds and buildings sufficient to meet the immediate demands. He was appointed in 1862 to Sparta, Wis., where he found a debt on the church equal to the value of the property, which he succeeded in liquidating. At the close of the year, without his knowledge or consent, he was transferred to Minnesota Conference, and stationed at Rochester. Here, during 1863–64, he succeeded in erecting the largest church then in the State, and gathering about him a quickening and flourishing organization. In 1865 he was appointed to Mantorville. In 1866 he was transferred to Upper Iowa Conference, and appointed to Osage. The year following he served Belle Plain. He was then assigned the superintendency of the State by the American Bible Society, a position for which he possessed great adaptability, and in which he remained until the fall of 1873, when he returned to the pastorate and was stationed at Mason City, where he remained two years. In the fall of 1875 he was transferred to the Des Moines Conference, in which he served successively Villisca, Boone, Stuart, Avoca, Carroll, Perry, Boonesborough, Mount Ayr, Colfax. In 1886 he was appointed secretary of the Des Moines Christian Alliance, but supplied Summer charge in Northwest Iowa Conference. In 1887, owing to failing health, he superannuated. But he could not remain idle. For the three years following he served as a supply in Garner, Ia. Here, surrounded by the people with whom he had labored so faithfully, he passed away after four weeks of intense suffering. Brother Chambers was a man of extraordinary mental endowments. His sermons were systematic, vigorous, and logical. He had a ready command of a wide vocabulary. His pulpit efforts were often impassioned and sublime. He had convictions, and dared to state them. He loved his people, and was ever ready to visit the sick and dying, to relieve the poor and discouraged, and to look carefully after strangers. He had a happy faculty for leadership in class, prayer, or praise meeting. He was the friend of all and the servant of all. His last hours were filled with holy triumph.

JOHN ELIAS DARBY died at his residence in Penn Center, Madison County, Ia., October 17, 1890. He was born near Catskill, N. Y., March 3, 1815. He was ordained deacon at Ashland, O., August 16, 1846, by Bishop Morris, and elder at Winterset, Ia., September 6, 1863, by Bishop Ames. He was received on trial in the Des Moines Conference at Boonesborough, Ia., August 26, 1866, and appointed to Adel charge, which he served two years. He was received into full membership in this Conference at Council Bluffs, Ia., August 28, 1868, and appointed to De Soto charge, where he remained two years. In September, 1870, he superannuated, and retired to his farm. In 1871 he supplied Stuart charge. His itinerant life of a few years was characterized by the faithful discharge of duty and was owned of God in the salvation of precious souls. He was twice married—October 8, 1837, to Miss Lucy A. Tuttle, who died May 15, 1849; and August 3, 1850, to Miss Sarah Battershell, of Berlin, Holmes County, O. He was a representative in the State Legislature from Madison County in 1863 and 1864. He was a strenuous advocate of the abolition of slavery and a devoted temperance worker, when it required more than ordinary courage to maintain his position and convictions. He was highly respected by all who knew him, and deeply beloved by all who knew him well.

Wisconsin Conference.

NOTE.—This obituary should have appeared in the Fall Minutes of 1890, but was received too late for insertion there.

J. C. ROBBINS was born in Adams County, O., July 16, 1822, and died of heart failure at Castleton, Ind., August 5, 1890. He united with the North Indiana Conference in 1844. On February 3, 1848, he married Miss Almira Allen. In August, 1855, Brother Robbins was transferred to Wisconsin Conference, of which he remained a member until death. In the early years of his connection with this Conference he served some of its most important charges. He was stationed at Spring Street (now Grand Avenue), Milwaukee; Racine, Waukesha, Berlin, Waupun, and many others. No pastor ever led a sin-sick soul directly to Jesus more successfully than did Brother Robbins, and none were more careful to give God the glory than he.

North Carolina Conference.

GEORGE W. RATCLIFF was born in West Nashville, N. C., in the year 1846. He joined the North Carolina Conference on trial in 1887, and was stationed on the following stations and circuits: Hickory, Hickory and Morgantown, East Greensborough. He was a good man and an earnest preacher, and was loved by all who knew him. He departed this life May 20, 1891, in the forty-fifth year of his age.

East Tennessee Conference.

GEORGE M. HILL departed this life May 19, 1891, in full triumph of faith. Brother Hill was an earnest worker, a faithful servant of God. He was always found at his post, and when his health began to fail his mother and brethren insisted on his retiring from the pastorate, but he said, "No; I want to die at my post. My suffering will soon be over." He received his last appointment to Wytheville station, and while engaged in his beloved work he was called by death to lay his trophies at the feet of Jesus.

HENRY S. PRIESTLEY departed this life March, 1891. A faithful servant of our Master, a devoted follower and soldier of Christ, Brother Priestley remained at his post until discharged by the Master of the vineyard. Brother Priestley was a faithful preacher of the word, and did effective service for the Church. He went home to receive his reward while pastor of the Warrensburg Circuit.

Norwegian and Danish Conference.

OLE KRISTENSEN was born in Söndre Odalen, Norway, in 1853, and died in Hyrum, Utah, October, 1890. He was converted through the work of our Church in Odalen, and became an exhorter and a local preacher. He attended our theological school at Kristiania, Norway, for two years, after which time he was appointed as pastor, and in 1883 was received into full connection in the Norway Conference, where he labored until, in 1889, he was transferred to the Norwegian and Danish Conference and appointed to the Norwegian and Danish church at Eau Claire, Wis. In the spring of 1890 he was appointed to the First Church, Chicago, Ill., during the pastor's (O. Jacobsen) absence in Norway. At the Conference in La Crosse in September the same year he was appointed to La Crosse. Afterward he was placed by Bishop Ninde as pastor at Hyrum, Utah, where, however, after a stay of only about a month, and after a short illness, he died.
